NEW QUESTION # 59

Which of the following is an advantage of an adaptive time threshold?

- A. Automatically adjusting thresholds as normal KPI values change over time.
- B. Automatically alerting when KPI value patterns change over time.
- C. Automatically adjusting to holiday schedules.
- D. Automatically predicting future degradation of KPI values over time.

Answer: A

Explanation:

An adaptive time threshold in the context of Splunk IT Service Intelligence (ITSI) refers to the capability of dynamically adjusting threshold values for Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) based on historical data trends and patterns. This feature allows thresholds to evolve as the 'normal' behavior of KPIs changes over time, ensuring that alerts remain relevant and reduce the likelihood of false positives or negatives. The advantage of this approach is that it accommodates for natural fluctuations in KPI values that may occur due to changes in business operations, seasonality, or other factors, without requiring manual threshold adjustments. This makes the monitoring system more resilient and responsive to actual conditions, improving the overall effectiveness of IT operations management.

NEW QUESTION # 60

To use Adaptive Thresholding, what is the minimum requirement for a set of KPI data?

- A. 30 days old.
- B. 10 days old.
- C. 7 days old.
- D. 14 days old.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To utilize Adaptive Thresholding in Splunk IT Service Intelligence (ITSI), the minimum requirement for a set of Key Performance Indicator (KPI) data is that it must be at least 7 days old. Adaptive Thresholding uses historical data to dynamically adjust thresholds based on observed patterns and trends. Having a minimum of 7 days worth of data allows the system to analyze a sufficient amount of information to identify normal ranges and variances in KPI behavior, thereby setting more accurate and contextually relevant thresholds. This requirement ensures that the adaptive thresholds are based on a meaningful data set that reflects the typical operational conditions of the monitored services.

NEW QUESTION # 61

Buttercup Retail sells t-shirts both online and in stores. The IT Operations team is effectively monitoring the digital infrastructure. However, the executive leadership has expressed frustration in understanding what the related business impacts are of IT incidents. Which of the following entities would give Buttercup Retail executives the most impactful visibility?

- A. host, browser type, software version
- B. host, network interface, datacenter
- C. store, season, customer age
- D. store, product, payment type

Answer: D

Explanation:

Splunk IT Service Intelligence (ITSI) is designed to align IT monitoring with the business outcomes that matter to stakeholders - especially executives who are focused on service performance and its impact on revenue, customer experience, and operational goals. In ITSI, entities represent the individual components that make up services and contribute to Key Performance Indicators (KPIs). Selecting the right entities for service modeling is critical: technical entities (like hosts or network interfaces) are useful for IT operations troubleshooting, but they don't inherently represent business outcomes. Executive leadership cares about how incidents affect business capabilities and outcomes - such as sales performance, customer transactions, and channel health. Therefore, entities that reflect business context (for example, store locations, product categories, or payment types) map IT issues directly to business performance indicators. When executives can see service health and incidents broken down by these business-centric entities, they gain impactful visibility into how issues affect revenue, customer interactions, and overall business operations. In contrast, purely technical entities such as hosts or network interfaces do not provide that business impact perspective, and demographic slices like season or customer age - while potentially valuable for marketing - don't directly connect IT service health to business service performance in ITSI modeling.

NEW QUESTION # 62

Which of the following accurately describes base searches used for KPIs in a service?

- A. A base search can only be used by its service and all dependent services.

- B. Base searches can be used for multiple services.
- C. All the metrics in a base search are used by one service.
- D. All the KPIs in a service use the same base search.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

KPI base searches let you share a search definition across multiple KPIs in IT Service Intelligence (ITSI).

Create base searches to consolidate multiple similar KPIs, reduce search load, and improve search performance.

NEW QUESTION # 63

In distributed search, which components need to be installed on instances other than the search head?

- A. SA-IndexCreation and SA-ITOA on indexers; SA-ITSI-Licensechecker and SA-UserAccess on the license master.
- B. SA-IndexCreation and SA-ITSI-Licensechecker on indexers.
- C. SA-ITSI-Licensechecker on indexers.
- D. SA-IndexCreation on indexers; SA-ITSI-Licensechecker and SA-UserAccess on the license master.

Answer: B

Explanation:

SA-IndexCreation is required on all indexers. For non-clustered, distributed environments, copy SA- IndexCreation to $SPLUNK_HOME/etc/apps/ on individual indexers.

Reference: <https://docs.splunk.com/Documentation/ITSI/4.10.2/Install/InstallDD> In distributed search, the components that need to be installed on instances other than the search head are SA- IndexCreation and SA-ITSI-Licensechecker on indexers. SA- IndexCreation is an add-on that creates the indexes required by ITSI, such as itsi_summary and itsi_tracked_alerts. SA-ITSI- Licensechecker is an add-on that monitors the license usage of ITSI and generates alerts when the license limit is exceeded or about to expire. These components need to be installed on indexers because they handle the data ingestion and storage functions for ITSI. The other components, such as ITSI app and SA-ITOA, need to be installed on the search head(s) because they handle the search management and presentation functions for ITSI.
