SAP Certified Associate - SAP Business Data Cloud Sample Questions (Q64-Q69):

NEW QUESTION # 64

Which entity can be used as a direct source of an SAP Datasphere analytic model?

- A. Business entities of semantic type Dimension
- B. Remote tables of semantic type Text
- C. Tables of semantic type Hierarchy
- D. Views of semantic type Fact

Answer: D

Explanation:

An SAP Datasphere analytic model is specifically designed for multi-dimensional analysis, and as such, it requires a central entity that contains the measures (key figures) to be analyzed and links to descriptive dimensions. Therefore, a View of semantic type Fact (B) is the most appropriate and commonly used direct source for an analytic model. A "Fact" view typically represents transactional data, containing measures (e.g., sales amount, quantity) and foreign keys that link to dimension views (e.g., product, customer, date). While "Dimension" type entities (A) provide descriptive attributes and are linked to the analytic model, they are not the direct source of the model itself. Tables of semantic type Hierarchy (C) are used within dimensions, and remote tables of semantic type Text (D) typically provide text descriptions for master data, not the core fact data for an analytic model. The Fact view serves as the central point for an analytic model's measures and its connections to all relevant dimensions.

NEW QUESTION # 67

Which steps are executed when an SAP Business Data Cloud Intelligent Application is installed? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Creation of a dashboard for visualization
- B. Replication of data from the business applications to Foundation Services
- C. Connection of SAP Datasphere with SAP Analytics Cloud
- D. Execution of a machine-learning algorithm

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

When an SAP Business Data Cloud (BDC) Intelligent Application is installed, two key foundational steps are executed to ensure its operational readiness. Firstly, there is the connection of SAP Datasphere with SAP Analytics Cloud (SAC). This establishes the vital link that allows the intelligent application's analytical models, which reside and are managed within SAP Datasphere, to be consumed and visualized in SAC. SAC serves as the front-end for analytical consumption, enabling users to interact with the insights generated by the intelligent application. Secondly, the installation process involves the replication of data from the business applications to Foundation Services. Foundation Services act as the initial landing zone for raw business data within the BDC architecture. This data replication ensures that the intelligent application has access to the necessary operational data from source systems to perform its functions, whether it involves data processing, enrichment, or feeding machine learning models. These steps are crucial for the intelligent application to ingest, process, and ultimately present valuable business insights.
