NEW QUESTION # 124
When debugging Email Notifications, what must you check on a user record?
Choose 2 answers

- A. Active must be true.
- B. Delegation must be enabled.
- C. The First name and Last name fields must have values.
- D. The Email field must have a valid value.
- E. The user must not be locked out.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
Ensuring that users receive email notifications in ServiceNow requires verifying specific attributes on the user record:
* A. The Email field must have a valid value: This is correct. The Email field should contain a valid email address, as notifications are sent to the address specified in this field.
* B. The user must not be locked out: While it's important for user access, being locked out does not directly impact the sending of email notifications.
* C. The First name and Last name fields must have values: These fields are for identification purposes and do not affect email notification delivery.
* D. Active must be true: This is correct. Only active users are eligible to receive email notifications. If a user is marked as inactive, notifications will not be sent to them.
* E. Delegation must be enabled: Delegation pertains to assigning responsibilities to another user and does not influence the receipt of email notifications.
For effective email notification delivery, always ensure that the user's Email field contains a valid address and that the Active field is set to true.

NEW QUESTION # 125
Which of the following statements is true about Guided Application Creator?

- A. Default access controls are automatically created
- B. The global scope option is turned on by default
- C. The welcome screen appears every time a new application is created
- D. A scope application user role is automatically created

Answer: C

Explanation:
The welcome screen appears every time a new application is created through the Guided Application Creator. The welcome screen provides an overview of the steps involved in creating an application, such as defining the app name, scope, and tables, configuring the app user interface, and publishing the app. The other options are not true about the Guided Application Creator. The global scope option is turned off by default, as it is recommended to create applications in their own scope for better security and performance. A scope application user role is not automatically created, as the user can choose to create one or use an existing role for the app access control. Default access controls are not automatically created, as the user can define the read, write, create, and delete permissions for each table in the app. Reference: Guided App Creator

NEW QUESTION # 126
What records are used to track cross-scope applications or scripts that request access to an application, application resource, or event?

- A. Cross-scope access records
- B. Restricted caller access records
- C. Caller tracking records

- D. Access control level records

Answer: B

Explanation:
"Restricted caller access [sys_restricted_caller_access] records track cross-scope applications or scripts that request access to an application, application resource, or event in the Now Platform." <<== this is the third sentence down in the following link:https://docs.servicenow.com/bundle/tokyo-application-development/page/build/applications/concept/restrict
