SAP Certified Specialist - Implementation Consultant - SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition Sample Questions (Q58-Q63):

NEW QUESTION # 58

In which type of extensibility is SAP Business Technology Platform used to host a custom extension?

- A. Classic extensibility
- B. Developer extensibility
- C. Key user extensibility
- D. Side-by-side extensibility

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 59

After integration requirements have been finalized, what is used to analyze, design, and document the integration strategy?

- A. SAP Cloud ALM Requirements app
- B. SAP Integration Solution Advisory Methodology
- C. SAP Business Accelerator Hub
- D. Integration and API List

Answer: B

Explanation:

After finalizing integration requirements, the SAP Integration Solution Advisory Methodology (ISA-M) is utilized to analyze, design, and document the integration strategy. ISA-M provides a structured approach to developing integration guidelines and best practices tailored to the organization's needs.

Option A: SAP Cloud ALM Requirements app

This option is incorrect. The Requirements app in SAP Cloud ALM is used for managing project requirements but does not specifically focus on integration strategy design.

Option B: Integration and API List

This option is incorrect. The Integration and API List provides information on available integrations and APIs but does not offer a methodology for designing integration strategies.

Option D: SAP Business Accelerator Hub

This option is incorrect. SAP Business Accelerator Hub is a repository for APIs and integration content but does not provide tools for analyzing or designing integration strategies.

In summary, the SAP Integration Solution Advisory Methodology is the appropriate framework for analyzing, designing, and documenting integration strategies after requirements have been finalized.

NEW QUESTION # 60

Which of the following are formal tests, and therefore must be documented? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. String tests
- B. Unit tests
- C. Integration tests
- D. Business process tests

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Formal tests in the context of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition implementation (e.g., via SAP Activate Methodology) are structured, documented tests conducted to validate system functionality and ensure quality.

These are typically managed in tools like SAP Cloud ALM. Let's analyze which tests are considered formal and require documentation:

* A. Unit tests: This is incorrect. Unit tests are informal, developer-level tests to verify individual components (e.g., a custom program or configuration). In SAP Activate, they are not classified as formal tests requiring centralized documentation, though they are important during development.

Documentation is typically ad-hoc and not mandated in tools like SAP Cloud ALM.

* B. Integration tests: This is correct. Integration tests validate the end-to-end flow across multiple components, applications, or systems (e.g., SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition with SAP SuccessFactors). As formal tests, they are documented in SAP Cloud ALM (e.g., via the Test Preparation app) to ensure integration points work as expected during the Realize phase.

* C. String tests: This is also correct. String tests are formal tests that verify a sequence of process steps within a single business process (e.g., procure-to-pay steps like purchase requisition to invoice). They are documented as part of the testing strategy in SAP Activate to confirm process continuity and are considered a formal testing type in SAP Cloud ALM.

* D. Business process tests: This is incorrect. While business process testing is critical, the term "business process tests" is not a distinct formal test category in SAP Activate. It's a broader concept encompassing string tests, integration tests, and user acceptance tests (UAT). String and integration tests are the specific formal types requiring documentation, not the generic "business process tests." In summary, Integration tests and String tests are formal tests that must be documented in SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition implementations.

NEW QUESTION # 61

In which type of extensibility is SAP Business Technology Platform used to host a custom extension?

- A. Classic extensibility
- B. Developer extensibility
- C. Key user extensibility
- D. Side-by-side extensibility

Answer: D

Explanation:

Side-by-side extensibility involves developing custom extensions on platforms like SAP Business Technology Platform (BTP), operating alongside the core SAP S/4HANA system without altering its standard functionality. This approach maintains system integrity and simplifies updates.

Option A: Side-by-side extensibility

This option is correct. SAP BTP serves as the environment for hosting custom extensions in a side-by-side extensibility scenario.

Option B: Developer extensibility

This option is incorrect. Developer extensibility typically involves in-app extensions within the core system, not hosted separately on SAP BTP.

Option C: Key user extensibility

This option is incorrect. Key user extensibility allows business users to make simple extensions directly within the SAP S/4HANA system.

Option D: Classic extensibility

This option is incorrect. Classic extensibility often refers to traditional customization methods within the core system.

In summary, side-by-side extensibility utilizes SAP BTP to host custom extensions, ensuring the core SAP S/4HANA system remains standard and upgradable.

NEW QUESTION # 62

Which of the following tasks are included in the SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition standard services delivered by SAP for a new implementation? Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. Configuring the SAP Best Practices business processes
- B. Provisioning a client with the desired client setup alternative
- C. Activating required business functions in client 000
- D. Implementing customizations to the SAP Best Practices business processes
- E. Activating SAP Best Practices content in the system

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

For a new implementation of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition, SAP provides standard services that include the following tasks:

Option A: Configuring the SAP Best Practices business processes

This option is incorrect. While SAP provides Best Practices content, the specific configuration of these processes to meet unique business requirements is typically the responsibility of the implementation team or partner.

Option B: Provisioning a client with the desired client setup alternative This option is correct. SAP handles the provisioning of the system, including setting up the client according to the agreed-upon setup alternative.

Option C: Implementing customizations to the SAP Best Practices business processes This option is incorrect. Customizations beyond the standard Best Practices are generally managed by the customer's implementation team or partner, not by SAP's standard services.

Option D: Activating required business functions in client 000

This option is correct. SAP is responsible for activating necessary business functions in the initial client (client 000) as part of the system setup.

Option E: Activating SAP Best Practices content in the system

This option is correct. SAP activates the Best Practices content, ensuring that the system includes predefined processes and configurations to accelerate implementation.

In summary, SAP's standard services for a new implementation of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition include provisioning the client with the desired setup, activating required business functions in client 000, and activating SAP Best Practices content in the system.
