Salesforce Certified Platform Administrator II Sample Questions (Q156-Q161):

NEW QUESTION # 156

The administrator at Ursa Major Solar has set up IT policies for all user passwords to be a minimum length of 3 characters and have an expiration period of 90 days. The security team recently decided that administrators of any system should have a 15-character minimum password with a 30-day expiration period.

Where should the administrator make this change?

- A. Organization-wide password policies
- B. Password Policies on the System Administrator profile .
- C. Password complexity requirements on the permission set
- D. Session Settings on the User record

Answer: B

Explanation:

Password Policies on the System Administrator profile is a feature that allows administrators to set different password requirements for users with different profiles. Password Policies can specify the minimum length, complexity, expiration period, history enforcement, lockout interval, and warning message for passwords.

Password Policies can be used to enforce stricter password requirements for system administrators than for other users

NEW QUESTION # 157

The administrator at AW Computing has received an email for a system error indicating that their organization has reached its hourly limit processing workflow time triggers.

Which two processes should the administrator review? Choose 2 answers

- A. Debug Logs
- B. Time-Based Workflows
- C. Paused now Interviews
- D. Apex Triggers

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Time-based workflows are a type of workflow that execute actions based on a specific time trigger, such as a certain number of days before or after a date field on a record. Time-based workflows can cause delays in processing because they are added to a queue and processed in one-hour batches. If the queue is large or the system is busy, the actions may not execute at the exact time they are scheduled. Therefore, time-based workflows can contribute to reaching the hourly limit for processing workflow time triggers. References:

NEW QUESTION # 158

When configuring a change set, which two practices should an administrator adhere to in order to ensure a successful deployment to production?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Add permissions and access settings to outbound change sets in addition to the dependent component list.
- B. Run deployment validations on the change set in the sandbox prior to uploading to production.
- C. When deploying a new record type, ensure the new record type is the only component in the change set.
- D. Clone a change set to add forgotten dependent components to an uploaded change set.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Two practices that the administrator should adhere to in order to ensure a successful deployment to production are:

* Add permissions and access settings to outbound change sets in addition to the dependent component list. This can help avoid deployment errors or access issues caused by missing permissions or settings for the components in the change set. For example, if the change set includes a new custom object, the administrator should also include the object permissions, field-level security, page layouts, and record types for that object.

* Run deployment validations on the change set in the sandbox prior to uploading to production. This can help test the change set for any errors or conflicts before deploying it to production. Deployment validations simulate the deployment without actually making any changes and report any issues or warnings.

The other two options are incorrect because:

* Cloning a change set does not add forgotten dependent components to an uploaded change set. It only creates a copy of the existing change set that can be modified before uploading.

* When deploying a new record type, it is not necessary to have it as the only component in the change set. It can be deployed along with other components as long as they are compatible and have the required dependencies.

NEW QUESTION # 159

Sales reps and partner consultants at Cloud Kicks work on the same kinds of shoe deals. The administrator has been asked to ensure that the Profit new on the Opportunity object is available to sales reps and is hidden from partners using Field Level Security. Which two features should the administrator use to fulfil this request?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Organization-wide Defaults
- B. Record Type
- C. Profiles
- D. Permission Set

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

A delegated administrator is a user who has been granted limited administrative privileges by an administrator through delegated administration groups. Delegated administrators can perform some administrative tasks without having full access to Setup. Some functions that delegated administrators can perform are:

* B) Build automation and validation rules using screen flows

Screen flows are types of flows that guide users through screens with elements such as text boxes, picklists, radio buttons, etc.

Screen flows can also perform actions such as creating records, updating fields, sending emails, etc. Delegated administrators can build automation and validation rules using screen flows if they have been granted access to create and edit flows by an administrator. https://help.salesforce.com/s/articleView?id=sf.flow_distribute_delegated_admins.htm&type=5

* D) Make updates to permission set configurations

Permission sets are collections of settings and permissions that can extend users' functional access without changing their profiles.

Delegated administrators can make updates to permission set configurations if they have been granted access to manage users by an administrator. References: https://help.salesforce.com/s/articleView?id=sf.users_permissionsets.htm&type=5

NEW QUESTION # 160

An administrator created two record types on the Account object: Internal Customers and External Customers.

A custom profile called Sales has the External Customers record type assigned. The sharing rules for Accounts are set to Public Read Only. On occasion, Sales users notice that an Account record has the wrong record type assigned. The administrator has created a screen flow that will change the record type on the user's behalf.

What will happen to the Sales user's record access after running this flow?

- A. Read access will be lost to the record.
- B. Record Access remains the same.
- C. A new record owner will be assigned.
- D. Edit access will be lost to the record.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Changing the record type of a record does not affect the record access of a user. Record access is determined by the organization-wide default, role hierarchy, sharing rules, manual sharing, teams, and ownership. Record type only affects the page layout and picklist values that are available for the record. Therefore, if a user has access to a record before changing its record type, they will still have the same access after changing its record type.
