UiPath Certified Professional Agentic Automation Associate (UiAAA) Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

What is a key feature of zero-shot prompting?

- A. The model performs tasks without prior examples or training specific to the request.
- B. It requires at least one example in the prompt for efficient completion.
- C. This is necessary for complex or nuanced scenarios.
- D. It ensures the model has been fine-tuned for all tasks it encounters.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct answer is A- zero-shot prompting refers to asking an LLM to perform a task without providing any prior examples in the prompt. In UiPath Agentic Automation, this is considered the simplest form of task prompting and is often used when:

- * The request is straightforward or familiar to the LLM
- * There's no need for detailed context or task demonstration
- * You want rapid generation without lengthy prompt design

UiPath distinguishes zero-shot, few-shot, and chain-of-thought prompting as part of its Prompt Engineering Toolkit. While zero-shot is fast and scalable, it's not ideal for nuanced or ambiguous tasks, which often benefit from few-shot examples or structured reasoning steps.

Option B is misleading - complex scenarios usually require more grounding.

C contradicts the definition of zero-shot.

D confuses prompting with model fine-tuning, which is a separate concept.

Zero-shot works well for common, templated tasks (e.g., classifying "Is this urgent?") but is less reliable in dynamic, multi-intent agent behaviors.

NEW QUESTION # 41

When adding an index for querying data stored in CSV files, what advanced feature does UiPath Context Grounding provide to optimize retrieval?

- A. Support for structured queries tailored specifically for CSV data.
- B. Embedding data from CSV files into JSON templates for improved semantic similarity.
- C. Streaming support for real-time ingestion and CSV query execution without indexing.
- D. Automatic conversion of CSV data into native XLSX files for enhanced compatibility.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Dis correct - UiPath Context Grounding supports querying unstructured and semi-structured data, including CSV files, by embedding their content into semantic representations such as JSON-formatted chunks during indexing.

Here's how this works for CSVs:

- * UiPath parses the tabular data and maps each row or section into a semantically rich format (e.g., JSON)
- * These JSON-structured embeddings are then stored in ECS Indexes (Enterprise Context Store)
- * When an LLM agent queries the index, it retrieves the most contextually relevant data, even across large datasets. This unlocks:
 - * Smarter question answering from tabular data
 - * Cross-referencing multiple fields in a single query
 - * Enhanced LLM understanding by transforming flat rows into relational, structured prompts

Option A is misleading - LLMs rely on semantic similarity, not SQL-like structured queries.

B is false - CSV is not auto-converted into XLSX.

C is incorrect - streaming is not yet supported; indexing is a prerequisite.

In short, UiPath enables semantic grounding of structured data like CSVs by reformatting them into JSON-style embeddings, improving retrieval quality, summarization, and task-specific use cases.

NEW QUESTION # 42

What type of agents can be invoked using the 'Start and wait for external agent' feature in UiPath Maestro?

- A. Only UiPath Orchestrator robots.
- B. Agents configured exclusively within the same project.
- C. External agents like Salesforce or ServiceNow.
- D. Agents that do not require any input or output variables.

Answer: B

Explanation:

C is the correct answer - the "Start and wait for external agent" feature in UiPath Maestro is used to invoke another agent that has been configured within the same project or automation environment.

This enables:

- * Agent-to-agent chaining
- * Modular design where complex tasks are offloaded to specialized agents
- * Return of results or outputs, once the external agent completes its task. Agents must be:
 - * Properly configured
 - * Input/output ready

- * Available within the orchestration context of the same solution
- Option A is incorrect - this feature is about agents, not robots.
- B is wrong - external platforms like Salesforce are accessed via connectors, not as agents.
- D is false - input/output parameters can and often should be used between agents.

NEW QUESTION # 43

Why would you choose the Argument input method for an activity field?

- A. Prompts a person to supply the value each time the field is evaluated at runtime.
- B. Receives a runtime value from an agent input argument defined earlier in the workflow.
- C. Applies one constant value you enter during design every time the agent executes the activity.
- D. Lets the agent infer the field value at runtime using the Description and its reasoning.

Answer: B

Explanation:

B is correct - the Argument input method is used when you want a field in an activity (such as a tool, API call, or process input) to dynamically receive a value at runtime, passed via agent input arguments defined earlier in the flow.

This setup is critical for:

- * Contextual automation: e.g., if the user or upstream system provides a value like Customer_ID, that same value can be used in downstream tools.
- * Reusability: One workflow can behave differently based on argument values passed at runtime (e.g., from Orchestrator triggers, API calls, or user prompts).
- * Maintainability: Centralizing inputs allows for consistent data mapping and easier debugging.

Here's how it works:

- * You define an input argument in the agent's Data Manager (e.g., {{CUSTOMER_EMAIL}})
- * In the activity, you set the input method to Argument, and reference the same name
- * At runtime, UiPath automatically maps the values based on the execution context Option A is describing the Static input method. C refers to the Prompt method, where the LLM infers values.

D is incorrect - that's the Prompt for user input, not the Argument flow.

In summary, choosing Argument enables your agent to behave dynamically and intelligently, using external or user-provided data without hardcoding.

NEW QUESTION # 44

What is the significance of the "as-is" process map in identifying agentic automation opportunities?

- A. It directly outlines the roles that agents will assume in the optimized process, ensuring alignment with automation requirements.
- B. It defines the current way tasks are performed, helping to highlight inefficiencies, bottlenecks, and areas for improvement that can uncover automation potential.
- C. It establishes the goals of the new process, serving as a foundation to later create the "to-be" process map.
- D. It serves as a finalized map of processes ready for automation, removing the need for further adjustments or workshops.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is A- the "as-is" process map is a foundational tool in UiPath's Agentic Blueprint Design framework. It visualizes the current state of how work is performed, enabling teams to:

- * Identify manual, repetitive, or time-consuming tasks
- * Spot delays, rework loops, or human bottlenecks
- * Discover areas where agents can augment or replace tasks

It acts as a baseline diagnostic, not an implementation-ready flow.

This is a key step in workshops led by process owners or business SMEs, before designing the "to-be" process where agents are introduced.

B is incorrect - the as-is map is not final.

C refers to the optimized state, not the current one.

D confuses the mapping's role - it captures the present, not the goals.
