Microsoft Implementing Analytics Solutions Using Microsoft Fabric Sample Questions (Q82-Q87):

NEW QUESTION # 82

You have the source data model shown in the following exhibit.

The primary keys of the tables are indicated by a key symbol beside the columns involved in each key. You need to create a dimensional data model that will enable the analysis of order items by date, product, and customer. What should you include in the solution? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

* The relationship between OrderItem and Product must be based on: Both the CompanyID and the ProductID columns
* The Company entity must be: Denormalized into the Customer and Product entities In a dimensional model, the relationships are typically based on foreign key constraints between the fact table (OrderItem) and dimension tables (Product, Customer, Date). Since CompanyID is present in both the OrderItem and Product tables, it acts as a foreign key in the relationship. Similarly, ProductID is a foreign key that relates these two tables. To enable analysis by date, product, and customer, the Company entity would need to be denormalized into the Customer and Product entities to ensure that the relevant company information is available within those dimensions for querying and reporting purposes.

NEW QUESTION # 83

You have a Fabric tenant that contains a Microsoft Power BI report.

You are exploring a new semantic model.

You need to display the following column statistics:

- * Count
- * Average
- * Null count
- * Distinct count
- * Standard deviation

Which Power Query function should you run?

- A. Table.FuzzyGroup
- B. Table.View
- C. Table.Schema
- D. Table.Profile

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Table.Profile function in Power Query is used to generate column statistics such as count, average, null count, distinct count, and standard deviation. You can use this function as follows:

Invoke the Power Query Editor.

Apply the Table.Profile function to your table.

The result will be a table where each row represents a column from the original table, and each column in the result represents a different statistic such as those listed in the requirement.

NEW QUESTION # 84

You have a Fabric tenant that contains a warehouse.

You use a dataflow to load a new dataset from OneLake to the warehouse.
You need to add a Power Query step to identify the maximum values for the numeric columns.
Which function should you include in the step?

- A. Table.Max
- B. Table. MaxN
- C. Table.Profile
- D. Table.Range

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Table.Max function should be used in a Power Query step to identify the maximum values for the numeric columns. This function is designed to calculate the maximum value across each column in a table, which suits the requirement of finding maximum values for numeric columns. References = For detailed information on Power Query functions, including Table.Max, please refer to Power Query M function reference.

NEW QUESTION # 85

You have a Microsoft Power BI project that contains a file named definition.pbir. definition.pbir contains the following JSON.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

PBIR-Legacy format # No

Located in Power BI service # No

Opens in full edit mode # Yes

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation

We are analyzing a Power BI Report (PBIR) definition file in JSON format:

```
  "version": "1.0",
  "byPath": {
    "path": "../Sales.Dataset"
  }
}
```

Step 1: Is this PBIR-Legacy?

PBIR-Legacy format is used when referencing a dataset hosted in the Power BI service (cloud).

In this case, the JSON uses byPath, which references a local dataset file (Sales.Dataset) in the project folder, not a service dataset.

Therefore: No, it is not PBIR-Legacy.

Step 2: Where is the semantic model located?

The datasetReference points to ../Sales.Dataset.

That means the semantic model is stored locally in the project structure, not in the Power BI service.

Therefore: No, it is not located in the Power BI service.

Step 3: What happens when opening in Power BI Desktop?

Since the dataset reference is local (byPath), Power BI Desktop opens the semantic model in full edit mode (allowing schema, relationships, measures, etc. to be modified).

If it were PBIR-Legacy with a service model, only Live Connection mode would be available.

Therefore: Yes, Power BI Desktop opens it in full edit mode.

Semantic model references: byPath vs byConnection

Final Answer:

PBIR-Legacy format # No

Located in Power BI service # No

Opens in full edit mode # Yes

NEW QUESTION # 86

Which syntax should you use in a notebook to access the Research division data for Productline?

- A.
- B.
- C.
- D.

Answer: B
