Question: 2

Your security team is getting ready for an audit and wants to check the status of all ESXi hosts' outstanding security patches. Create a new fixed Update Manager baseline for all security ESXi host patches and name it "Security patches." Use the patches available in the patch repository. Use VCSA01a in this task.

Baseline Name: Security Patches
Baseline Type: Host Patch
Category: Security

Answer: See the Explanation below for Solution.

Explanation:

The Update Manager displays system managed baselines that are generated by vSAN. These baselines appear by default when you use vSAN clusters with ESXi hosts of version 6.0 Update 2 and later in your vSphere inventory. If your vSphere environment does not contain any vSAN clusters, no system managed baselines are created.

The system managed baselines automatically update their content periodically, which requires Update Manager to have constant access to the Internet. The vSAN system baselines are typically refreshed every 24 hours.

You use system managed baselines to upgrade your vSAN clusters to recommended critical patches, drivers, updates or the latest supported ESXi host version for vSAN.

System managed baselines cannot be edited or deleted. You do not attach system managed baselines to inventory objects in your vSphere environment. You can create a baseline group of multiple system managed baselines, but you cannot add any other type of baseline to that group. Similarly, you cannot add a system managed baseline to a baseline group that contains upgrade, patch, and extension baselines.

Question: 3

As a member of the virtual infrastructure team, you have been tasked with creating a new guest customization specification and deploying a test virtual machine from an existing legacy template migrated from an old VMware VI3 environment

Questions (Q231-Q236):

NEW QUESTION # 231

An administrator is troubleshooting a "Federation Connection Error" in the VCF Operations console.

The "US-East" site is unable to display data from the "EU-West" member site.

Federation Status

Member Site: EU-West

Status: Disconnected

Last Sync: 4 hours ago

Troubleshooting Workbench - Connectivity Check

Source: US-East-Master-Node

Destination: EU-West-VIP (10.20.5.100)

Ping (ICMP): Success

Tracepath: Success

Curl (Port 443): Failed (Connection Refused)

Curl (Port 80): Success

Based on the diagnostic data, what is the most likely cause of the issue?

- A. The "EU-West" site is in Maintenance Mode, which automatically disables ICMP responses but allows API calls.
- B. The Federation API requires HTTPS (Port 443), but the firewall or service at the destination is blocking/refusing traffic on that port.
- C. The shared secret (passphrase) between the two sites has expired and needs rotation.
- D. The Federation requires Port 80 for data transport, but the "Success" message indicates a false positive due to a transparent proxy.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 232

A Cloud Admin needs to assess the cost and capacity impact of migrating 500 VMs from an on- premises VCF environment to "VMware Cloud on AWS" (VMC).

Which VCF Operations feature provides the specific cost comparison and node-count recommendation for this public cloud migration?

- A. The "Migration Planning" scenario within the What-If Analysis workbench.
- B. The "Reclaim" workbench.
- C. The standard "Workload Planning" scenario.
- D. The "Cost Drivers" page.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 233

An organization wants to account for the cost of the IT Operations team in their VM pricing. They have 5 administrators who each work 160 hours a month at a rate of $80/hour.

Which Cost Driver setting allows the admin to input this data?

- A. Server Hardware -> Maintenance.
- B. Facilities -> Overhead.
- C. Labor. The admin can input the "Hourly Rate" and "Total Hours" (or Salary) for the operational staff. VCF Operations then distributes this total labor cost across the VM inventory (often based on VM count or resource share) to determine the labor portion of the VM's cost.
- D. Additional Costs -> Management Fee.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 234

What is the primary operational risk of using the "Delete Orphaned Disks" action in the Reclaim workbench, and how does VCF Operations mitigate it?

- A. The risk is deleting a disk that belongs to a powered-on VM; VCF Ops mitigates this by only listing disks attached to powered-off VMs.
- B. The risk is deleting a valid disk that was temporarily detached during maintenance (or created but not yet attached). VCF Operations mitigates this by reporting the "File Age" (Last Modified Date) and allowing the admin to filter for disks that have not been modified for a long period (e.g., > 6 months), indicating they are truly abandoned.
- C. The risk is database corruption; VCF Ops mitigates this by running a backup first.
- D. The risk is deleting the OS disk; VCF Ops mitigates this by only deleting Data disks.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 235

A cluster is running a mix of "Test/Dev" workloads that are highly transient and often idle. The administrator wants to maximize density (VMs per host) and is willing to accept some performance risk.

Which capacity model setting supports this "High Density" goal?

- A. Allocation Model with a 1:1 Ratio.
- B. Allocation Model with "Admission Control" enabled in vCenter.
- C. Demand Model (allowing the system to pack VMs based on actual low usage).
- D. Demand Model with a 50% Buffer.

Answer: C
