Huawei HCIP-Access V2.5 Sample Questions (Q91-Q96):

NEW QUESTION # 91

On a Layer 2 network, which protocol can be used to better control multicast traffic forwarding?

- A. HGMP
- B. PIM-SM
- C. PIM-DM
- D. IGMP-proxy

Answer: A

Explanation:

At Layer 2, Huawei switches use HGMP/IGMP-Snooping mechanisms to listen to IGMP reports and constrain multicast forwarding to interested ports, preventing broadcast-like flooding. PIM-SM/DM and IGMP-proxy are Layer-3 multicast control/relay functions, not L2 forwarding control.

NEW QUESTION # 92

(Multi-select) VLAN planning principles need to be considered:

- A. Uplink networking mode
- B. Type and quantity of services
- C. Customer type and number of users
- D. The networking topology of the OLT
- E. The total number of VLANs

Answer: A,B,C,D,E

Explanation:

Huawei VLAN planning considers overall VLAN scale, user categories and volume, service types (HSI/IPTV/VoIP) and their isolation, uplink/aggregation mode (e.g., QinQ, VXLAN interwork), and device/topology constraints (e.g., OLT slot/board distribution). All listed factors affect VLAN count, tagging scheme, and scalability.

NEW QUESTION # 93

The scope of protection of the (multiple choice) GPON Type B dual attribution protection includes

- A. Primary and standby OLTs
- B. Primary and standby branch fibers
- C. Primary and standby feeder fibers
- D. OLT's primary and standby PON ports

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

In GPON protection schemes, Type B (dual-homing to the same OLT) provides redundancy by using two PON ports on the same OLT (working/standby) and a redundant feeder path via a 2×N splitter or equivalent ODN design. Thus, the protection covers the OLT PON interfaces and the feeder fiber segment. It does not provide protection for the branch (distribution) fibers from the splitter to the ONUs, and it does not involve dual OLTs-that is the scope of Type C.

References: HCIP-Access V2.5 Study Guide (PON Protection Types); Huawei OLT Product Description /Configuration Guide (Type B GPON Protection); Huawei ODN Planning & Deployment Guide (Feeder vs. Distribution Segments).

NEW QUESTION # 94

On U2000, if an OLT PON port LED is not green, it indicates the PON port is faulty.

- A. Right
- B. Wrong

Answer: B

Explanation:

This is wrong. A PON port LED not green may indicate several states-not only a hardware fault. It can mean the port is administratively shutdown, no ONUs are registered, or the port is in an alarm or idle state depending on the LED color and blinking pattern. Fault requires correlation with alarms and performance counters in U2000, not LED color alone.

NEW QUESTION # 95

(Multiple choice) Which of the following measures can be adopted by GPON in terms of traffic control

- A. tcontcar
- B. flow-car
- C. gem mapping
- D. Gem-car

Answer: B,D
