NEW QUESTION # 267

A "Dev-Ops" team complains that their "CI/CD-Build" VMs are constantly appearing in the "Oversized" reclamation list because they run at 100% CPU for 1 hour a day but are idle the rest of the time. They do not want these downsized.

What is the correct configuration strategy to stop VCF Operations from recommending downsizing for these specific VMs?

- A. Use the "Exclusion" tag in vCenter.
- B. Create a Custom Group for "CI/CD VMs", create a specific Policy that disables "Rightsizing" (or sets it to be extremely conservative), and assign that Policy to the Custom Group.
- C. Delete the VMs from VCF Operations.
- D. Disable the "Capacity Engine" globally.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 268

Which architectural characteristic defines the primary communication method between a VCF Operations Cloud Proxy deployed in a remote data center and the central analytics cluster?

- A. The Cloud Proxy requires a bidirectional VPN tunnel to the analytics cluster to support real-time metric streaming and action execution.
- B. The Cloud Proxy communicates directly with the SDDC Manager in the Management Domain over port 22 (SSH) to offload processing tasks.
- C. The central analytics cluster initiates a polling connection to the Cloud Proxy over port 443 to retrieve collected data.
- D. The Cloud Proxy initiates a one-way outbound connection to the analytics cluster over port 443, eliminating the need for complex inbound firewall rules at the remote site.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 269

A Cloud Administrator is responsible for designing complex infrastructure-as-code templates that combine vSphere VMs, NSX networks, and third-party load balancers into a single deployable unit.

Which component of VCF Automation provides the design canvas and YAML editor for creating these cloud templates?

- A. VCF Automation Assembler (formerly Cloud Assembly). This component is the primary "Build" environment where administrators connect to cloud accounts, define infrastructure mappings (Zones, Profiles), and author the Cloud Templates (Blueprints) using a graphical canvas or YAML code.
- B. VCF Automation Pipelines.
- C. VCF Automation Orchestrator.
- D. VCF Automation Service Broker.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 270

A team uses Ansible (Open Source) heavily for application configuration. They want to drag-and-drop their existing Ansible Playbooks onto the VCF Automation design canvas to run post-provisioning tasks on new VMs.

Which prerequisite must be met to enable this capability?

- A. Convert all Playbooks to vRO Workflows.
- B. Install the Ansible agent on every VM template.
- C. Enable "Cloud-Init".
- D. Configure an Ansible Integration in Assembler and specify the "Ansible Control Machine" (host) where the playbooks reside. This integration allows the canvas to inventory the playbooks and execute them via SSH/WinRM from the control node to the newly deployed VM.

Answer: D
