Palo Alto Networks Certified Network Security Administrator Sample Questions (Q234-Q239):

NEW QUESTION # 234

Which administrator type utilizes predefined roles for a local administrator account?

- A. Role-based
- B. Device administrator
- C. Dynamic
- D. Superuser

Answer: C

Explanation:

Dynamic roles: These are built-in or predefined roles that provide access to the firewall. When new features are added, the firewall automatically updates the definitions of Dynamic roles; you never need to manually update them.

NEW QUESTION # 235

Which statement is true regarding a Prevention Posture Assessment?

- A. The Security Policy Adoption Heatmap component filters the information by device groups, serial numbers, zones, areas of architecture, and other categories
- B. It provides a set of questionnaires that help uncover security risk prevention gaps across all areas of network and security architecture
- C. It provides a percentage of adoption for each assessment area
- D. It performs over 200 security checks on Panorama/firewall for the assessment

Answer: B

Explanation:

Prevention Posture Assessment (PPA) - The PPA is a set of questionnaires that help uncover security risk prevention gaps across all areas of network and security architecture. The PPA not only helps to identify all security risks, it also provides detailed suggestions on how to prevent the risks and close the gaps. The assessment, guided by an experienced Palo Alto Networks sales engineer, helps determine the areas of greatest risk where you should focus prevention activities.

You can run the PPA on firewalls and on Panorama.
