Which of the following encoding techniques replaces unusual ASCII characters with "%" followed by the character's two-digit ASCII code expressed in hexadecimal?

- A. Base64 encoding

- B. URL encoding
- C. Unicode encoding
- D. HTML encoding

Answer: B

Explanation:

URL encoding, also known as percent-encoding, is a mechanism for encoding information in a Uniform Resource Identifier (URI) under certain circumstances. This technique involves replacing unsafe ASCII characters with a "%" followed by two hexadecimal digits that represent the character's ASCII code. This is necessary for embedding characters that are not allowed in URLs directly, such as spaces and symbols, or characters that have special meanings within URLs, ensuring that the URL is correctly interpreted by web browsers and servers.
