Amazon AWS Certified Solutions Architect - Associate (SAA-C03) Sample Questions (Q596-Q601):

NEW QUESTION # 596

A company is building its web application using containers on AWS. The company requires three instances of the web application to run at all times. The application must be able to scale to meet increases in demand.

Management is extremely sensitive to cost but agrees that the application should be highly available. What should a solutions architect recommend?

- A. Create an Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) cluster using the Amazon EC2 launch type with one container instance in two different Availability Zones. Create a task definition for the web application. Place two tasks on one container instance and one task on the remaining container instance.
- B. Create an Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) cluster using the Amazon EC2 launch type with three container instances in one Availability Zone. Create a task definition for the web application. Place one task for each container instance.

- C. Create an Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) cluster using the Fargate launch type. Create a task definition for the web application. Create an ECS service with a desired count of three tasks.
- D. Create an Amazon Elastic Container Service (Amazon ECS) cluster using the Fargate launch type with one container instance in three different Availability Zones. Create a task definition for the web application. Create an ECS service with a desired count of three tasks.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 597

_____ is a fast, flexible, fully managed push messaging service.

- A. Amazon SQS
- B. Amazon SNS
- C. Amazon SES
- D. Amazon FPS

Answer: B

Explanation:

Amazon Simple Notification Service (Amazon SNS) is a fast, flexible, fully managed push messaging service. Amazon SNS makes it simple and cost-effective to push to mobile devices such as iPhone, iPad, Android, Kindle Fire, and internet connected smart devices, as well as pushing to other distributed services.

NEW QUESTION # 598

In the most recent company meeting, your CEO focused on the fact that everyone in the organization needs to make sure that all of the infrastructure that is built is truly scalable. Which of the following statements is incorrect in reference to scalable architecture?

- A. A scalable service is resilient.
- B. A scalable service is capable of handling heterogeneity.
- C. Increasing resources results in a proportional increase in performance.
- D. A scalable architecture won't be cost effective as it grows.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In AWS it is critical to build a scalable architecture in order to take advantage of a scalable infrastructure.

The cloud is designed to provide conceptually infinite scalability. However, you cannot leverage all that scalability in infrastructure if your architecture is not scalable. Both have to work together. You will have to identify the monolithic components and bottlenecks in your architecture, identify the areas where you cannot leverage the on-demand provisioning capabilities in your architecture, and work to refactor your application, in order to leverage the scalable infrastructure and take advantage of the cloud.

Characteristics of a truly scalable application:

Increasing resources results in a proportional increase in performance

A scalable service is capable of handling heterogeneity

A scalable service is operationally efficient

A scalable service is resilient

A scalable service should become more cost effective when it grows (Cost per unit reduces as the number of units increases)

NEW QUESTION # 599

When will you incur costs with an Elastic IP address (EIP)?

- A. When an EIP is allocated
- B. When it is allocated and associated with a stopped instance
- C. Costs are incurred regardless of whether the EIP associated with a running instance
- D. When it is allocated and associated with a running instance

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 600

A company uses Amazon EC2 instances behind an Application Load Balancer (ALB) to serve content to users. The company uses Amazon Elastic Block Store (Amazon EBS) volumes to store data.

The company needs to encrypt data in transit and at rest.

Which combination of services will meet these requirements? (Select TWO.)

- A. AWS Certificate Manager (ACM)
- B. Amazon GuardDuty
- C. AWS Shield
- D. AWS Key Management Service (AWS KMS)
- E. AWS Secrets Manager

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

To secure data in transit, the company should use AWS Certificate Manager (ACM) to provide SSL/TLS certificates for the Application Load Balancer. ACM allows easy provisioning, management, and renewal of public and private certificates, ensuring secure communication between users and applications.

To secure data at rest, AWS Key Management Service (KMS) is used to manage encryption keys for Amazon EBS volumes. EBS integrates with AWS KMS, allowing for server-side encryption using KMS-managed keys (SSE-KMS), thus meeting the encryption at rest requirement.

Other options:

GuardDuty (A) is for threat detection, not encryption.

AWS Shield (B) protects against DDoS attacks, not encryption.

Secrets Manager (D) manages credentials, not general data encryption.

This solution follows the AWS Well-Architected Framework - Security Pillar.
