CompTIA DataSys+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14
Which of the following cloud delivery models provides users with the highest level of flexibility regarding resource provisioning and administration?

- A. DBaaS
- B. PaaS
- C. IaaS
- D. SaaS

Answer: C

Explanation:
The cloud delivery model that provides users with the highest level of flexibility regarding resource provisioning and administration is IaaS. IaaS, or Infrastructure as a Service, is a cloud delivery model that provides users with access to virtualized computing resources, such as servers, storage, network, and operating systems, over the internet. Users can provision, configure, and manage these resources according to their needs and preferences, without having to worry about the maintenance or security of the physical infrastructure. IaaS offers users the most control and customization over their cloud environment, as well as the ability to scale up or down as needed. The other options are either different cloud delivery models or not related to cloud computing at all. For example, DBaaS, or Database as a Service, is a cloud delivery model that provides users with access to database management systems and tools over the internet; SaaS, or Software as a Service, is a cloud delivery model that provides users with access to software applications and services over the internet; PaaS, or Platform as a Service, is a cloud delivery model that provides users with access to development platforms and tools over the internet. - A. It allows Python to connect to databases.
- B. It allows Linux systems to connect to databases.
- C. It allows connections to databases through scripts.
- D. It allows connections to databases through ODBC.

Answer: C

Explanation:
PowerShell enables administrators to automate database management tasks and connect to databases by running scripts, streamlining routine operations and configurations.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Which of the following is the best way to migrate a large data load from one table to another, considering total time and blocking?

- A. Batch large loads into one transaction.
- B. Split the load size into many transactions.
- C. Split the load size in half and run simultaneously.
- D. Batch into small loads and run in parallel.

Answer: D

Explanation:
The best way to migrate a large data load from one table to another, considering total time and blocking, is to batch into small loads and run in parallel. This means that the large data load is divided into smaller chunks that can be processed simultaneously by multiple threads or processes. This reduces the total time required for the migration and also minimizes the blocking of other operations on the tables involved. The other options are either less efficient or more prone to blocking. For example, splitting the load size into many transactions may increase the overhead and latency of each transaction; splitting the load size in half and running simultaneously may still cause blocking or contention; batching large loads into one transaction may take longer and lock the tables for longer periods. Reference: CompTIA DataSys+ Course Outline, Domain 3.0 Database Management and Maintenance, Objective 3.3 Given a scenario, migrate data between databases.

NEW QUESTION # 17
Which of the following should a company develop to ensure preparedness for a fire in a data center?

- A. Data retention policy
- B. Deployment plan
- C. Backup plan
- D. Disaster recovery plan

Answer: D

Explanation:
The document that a company should develop to ensure preparedness for a fire in a data center is a disaster recovery plan. A disaster recovery plan is a document that outlines how an organization will continue its operations in the event of a disaster or disruption, such as fire, flood, earthquake, cyberattack, etc. A disaster recovery plan typically includes the following elements: - The objectives and scope of the plan - The roles and responsibilities of the staff involved - The identification and assessment of the risks and impacts - The strategies and procedures for restoring the critical functions and data - The resources and tools required for the recovery process - The testing and maintenance schedule for the plan A disaster recovery plan helps an organization to minimize the damage and downtime caused by a disaster, as well as to resume normal operations as soon as possible. The other options are either different types of documents or not specific to fire preparedness. For example, a deployment plan is a document that describes how a system or software will be installed or launched; a backup plan is a document that specifies how data will be copied and stored for backup purposes; a data retention policy is a document that defines how long data should be kept and when it should be deleted or archived.

NEW QUESTION # 18
Which of the following indicates why a data administrator would conduct a baseline configuration in a database?

- A. To have an agreed-upon description of the attributes of a database at a point in time
- B. To establish if the updates in the database are causing defects
- C. To check if the tables, rows, and columns in the database are correctly structured
- D. To improve performance of applications in the database

Answer: A
