What information would you find on the End of Life tab of the Hardware Asset dashboard? (Choose two.)

- A. Hardware assets disposed (YTD)
- B. Hardware asset disposal status
- C. Consumable models up for End of Life
- D. New hardware assets found by audits

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Explanation

The End of Life tab of the Hardware Asset dashboard shows key metrics on the hardware assets that have reached or are nearing the end of their life cycle.

The tab includes the following reports:

Hardware asset disposal status: This report shows the number of hardware assets that are in different stages of disposal, such as pending, in progress, or completed.

Hardware assets disposed (YTD): This report shows the number of hardware assets that have been disposed in the current year, grouped by month.

Hardware assets up for end of life: This report shows the number of hardware assets that are due for end of life in the next 12 months, grouped by month.

Hardware assets up for end of support: This report shows the number of hardware assets that are due for end of support in the next 12 months, grouped by month.

Therefore, the correct answer is A. Hardware asset disposal status and C. Hardware assets disposed (YTD), as these are the only two reports that are shown on the End of Life tab of the Hardware Asset dashboard.

NEW QUESTION # 142

For a model to be fully normalized, what must be added to the model record?

- A. Owner
- B. Model number
- C. Version
- D. Manufacturer

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

To fully normalize a model, you need to add the model number to the model record, which is a unique identifier for the model based on the United Nations Standard Product and Services Code (UNSPSC). The model number helps to standardize the display name and remove duplicates in the model catalog and the CMDB. The other fields, such as version, owner, and manufacturer, are optional or can be derived from the model number. References:
