Adobe Commerce Developer Professional Sample Questions (Q117-Q122):

NEW QUESTION # 117

Which command should be used to refresh the cache using the command line?

- A. magentocachedelete<type>
- B. magentocacheclean<type>
- C. magentocacherefresh<type>

Answer: B

Explanation:

To refresh the cache using the command line in Magento, the command `bin/magento cache:clean <type>` is used. This command clears the cache for the specified type, such as configuration, layout, or block HTML.

Cleaning the cache is an essential maintenance task that helps to update the store's frontend with the latest changes and ensure that customers see the most current content. This command is particularly useful during development or after making changes to the store's configuration or layout.

NEW QUESTION # 118

A logistics company with an Adobe Commerce extension sends a list of reviewed shipment fees to all its clients every month in a CSV file. The merchant then uploads this CSV file to a "file upload" field in admin configuration of Adobe Commerce.

What are the two requirements to display the "file upload" field and process the actual CSV import? (Choose two.)

```
// \My\Module\Model\Config\Backend\ImportFees
class \My\Module\Model\Config\Backend\ImportFees extends \Magento\Framework\App\Config\Value
{
    ...
    public function afterSave()
    {
        / @var \My\Module\Model\ImportFeed $importFees */
        $importFees = $this->importFeesFactory->create();
        $importFees->uploadAndImport($this);
        return parent::afterSave();
    }
}
```

- B.

Add a custom backend model which extends `\Magento\Framework\App\Config\Value` and call `afterSave`:

```
// etc/adminhtml/system.xml
<field id="import_fees" ...>
    <label>Import shipment fees</label>
    <backend_model>My\Module\Model\Config\Backend\ImportFees</backend_model>
</field>
```

Add a new field in `etc/adminhtml/system.xml` in `My_Module` with the `file` type:

```
<field id="import_fees" translate="label" type="file" sortOrder="1000" showInDefault="1">
    <label>Import shipment fees</label>
</field>
```

- C.
- D.

Add a new field in `etc/adminhtml/system.xml` in `My_Module` with a new custom type:

```
<field id="import_fees" translate="label" type="My\Module\Block\Adminhtml\Form\Field\ImportFees" sortOrder="1000" showInDefault="1">
    <label>Import shipment fees</label>
</field>
```

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

To display a "file upload" field in the Adobe Commerce (Magento) admin configuration and process the uploaded CSV file, two key requirements must be met:

* Backend Model to Handle File Upload Processing (Option B): The backend model

(\My\Module\Model\Config\Backend\ImportFees) is required to extend \Magento\Framework\App\Config\Value and override the afterSave method. This method will contain the logic needed to process the uploaded CSV file after it has been saved. The backend model is the key component that allows you to handle custom processing, like reading the CSV file and executing the required operations.

* Explanation: The backend model is used in Magento to add logic for saving configuration values in a custom way. Here, it's essential because you need to process the CSV file and potentially save additional data in the database or perform other operations.

NEW QUESTION # 119

A merchant of an Adobe Commerce Cloud project wants to setup one of their websites using a subdomain.

The merchant is considering the domain to be set as secondstore.example.com.

In addition to editing the magento-vars.php file, and apply a domain check and set $_SERVER

["MAGE_RUN_CODE"] and $_SERVER["MAGE_RUN_TYPE"].

What file is required to perform this action?

- A. Configure secondstore.example.com subdomain route in .magento/services.yaml.
- B. Configure secondstore.example.com subdomain route in .magento/routes.yaml.
- C. Configure secondstore.example.com subdomain route in NGINX virtual-host configuration file.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Adobe Commerce Cloud, routing configurations for custom domains and subdomains are managed within the .magento/routes.yaml file. This file defines how requests are directed to the application and is essential for setting up different stores or websites with unique subdomains.

* Using .magento/routes.yaml for Subdomain Configuration:

* To set up a new subdomain, like secondstore.example.com, you need to configure the route in .

magento/routes.yaml. This file handles all routing and domain configurations for Adobe Commerce Cloud projects.

* Why Option C is Correct:

* .magento/routes.yaml is designed specifically for defining routing rules, including subdomains, making it the appropriate choice for this task.

* Option A (NGINX configuration) and Option B (.magento/services.yaml) are not correct because they don't directly manage domain routing in Adobe Commerce Cloud.

* Example Configuration:

```
http://secondstore.example.com/:
```

```
type: upstream
```

```
upstream: "mymagento:80"

NEW QUESTION # 120

An Adobe Commerce developer is tasked with creating a custom block that will be displayed on every page in the footer of the site.

After completing and optimizing the development, the developer notices that the block takes too much time to be generated on each page and decides to store it in the system cache after enabling it for all cache groups.

What would be the minimum requirement to achieve this?

- A. Set values for both cache_lifetime and cache_key data properties of the block.
- B. Set a value for the cache_Lifetime data property of the block.
- C. Set a value for cache_key data property of the block.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 121

Which Magento project directory is the recommended webroot for the web server?

- A. Pub/
- B. app/
- C. bin/

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Pub/ directory is the recommended webroot for the web server in Magento. This is because it contains all of the static content that is used by the Magento store, such as images, CSS, and JavaScript files.

The recommended webroot for the web server in a Magento project is thepub/directory. This directory is used to access Magento static files and is the safer option for webroot as it minimizes security risks by not exposing the entire application structure to the web.

Thepub/directory in Magento is designed to be the root directory for web servers. This design choice is intended to enhance security and efficiency by serving static files directly from this location, thereby reducing the need for PHP processing for these files. By setting the webroot topub/, it ensures that only the necessary files are publicly accessible, protecting the application's core code and structure from external access. This setup is a recommended best practice in Magento development for maintaining a secure and well-organized file system structure.
