NEW QUESTION # 15

A systems administrator is creating a new document with a list of the websites that users are allowed to access. Which of the following types of documents is the administrator MOST likely creating?

- A. Standard operating procedure
- B. Acceptable use policy
- C. Incident report
- D. Access control list

Answer: D

Explanation:

An access control list (ACL) is a list of permissions associated with a system resource (object), such as a website. An ACL specifies which users or system processes are granted access to objects, as well as what operations are allowed on given objects<sup>1</sup>.

A systems administrator can create an ACL to define the list of websites that users are allowed to access.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Which of the following is a package management utility for PCs that are running the Linux operating system?

- A. man
- B. grep
- C. yum
- D. chmod

Answer: C

Explanation:

yum (Yellowdog Updater Modified) is a package management utility for PCs that are running the Linux operating system. It can be used to install, update and remove software packages from repositories. chmod (change mode) is a command that changes the permissions of files and directories in Linux. man (manual) is a command that displays the documentation of other commands in Linux. grep (global regular expression print) is a command that searches for patterns in text files in Linux. #### NEW QUESTION # 17

A technician is troubleshooting a computer with a suspected short in the power supply. Which of the following is the FIRST step the technician should take?

- A. Disconnect the power before servicing the PC.
- B. Place the PC on a grounded workbench.
- C. Put on an ESD strap
- D. Place components on an ESD mat.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The first step a technician should take when troubleshooting a computer with a suspected short in the power supply is B. Disconnect the power before servicing the PC. This is to prevent any electrical shock or damage to the components. A power supply can be dangerous even when unplugged, as capacitors can maintain a line voltage charge for a long time<sup>1</sup>. Therefore, it is important to disconnect the power cord and press the power button to discharge any residual power before opening the case<sup>2</sup>. The other steps are also important for safety and proper diagnosis, but they should be done after disconnecting the power.

NEW QUESTION # 18

An MDM report shows that a user's company cell phone has unauthorized applications installed. The device has recently checked into the MDM server, and the company still has access to remotely wipe the device. Which of the following describes the action the user has performed?

- A. Upgraded the OS
- B. Installed a VPN
- C. Uninstalled the MDM software
- D. Obtained root access

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth

If an MDM (Mobile Device Management) solution detects unauthorized applications, it is likely that the user has rooted (Android) or jailbroken (iOS) the device to bypass security restrictions. Root access allows the user to install unauthorized applications that MDM policies would normally block.

B . Upgraded the OS - Incorrect. Upgrading the OS does not bypass security policies or allow unauthorized apps.

C . Installed a VPN - Incorrect. A VPN does not affect the MDM system or allow unauthorized apps.

D . Uninstalled the MDM software - Incorrect. If the MDM software was removed, the device would not still be reporting to the MDM server.
