Snowflake SnowPro® Core Certification (COF-C03) Sample Questions (Q112-Q117):

NEW QUESTION # 112

Which transformation techniques are supported for bulk loading data into Snowflake using the copy into <table> command? (Select TWO)

- A. Column grouping
- B. Column omission
- C. Column reordering
- D. Column aggregation
- E. Selection of a limited number of rows

Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION # 113

What does Snowflake recommend regarding database object ownership? (Select TWO).

- A. Create objects with a custom role and grant this role to SYSADMIN.
- B. Create objects with SYSADMIN.
- C. Use only MANAGED ACCESS SCHEMAS for 66 objects owned by ACCOUNTADMIN.
- D. Create objects with SECURITYADMIN to ease granting of privileges later.
- E. Create objects with ACCOUNTADMIN and do not reassign ownership.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Snowflake recommends creating objects with a role that has the necessary privileges and is not overly permissive. SYSADMIN is typically used for managing system-level objects and operations. Creating objects with a custom role and granting this role to SYSADMIN allows for more granular control and adherence to the principle of least privilege. NEW QUESTION # 114

Which Snowflake function and command combination should be used to convert rows in a relational table to a single VARIANT column, and unload the rows into a file in JSON format? (Select TWO).

- A. EXPORT
- B. GET
- C. COPY
- D. PUT
- E. OBJECT CONSTRUCT

Answer: C,E

Explanation:

To convert rows in a relational table to a single VARIANT column and unload the rows into a file in JSON format, you can use the COPY command in combination with the OBJECT_CONSTRUCT function. The OBJECT_CONSTRUCT function converts the row into a JSON object stored in a VARIANT column, and the COPY command can then be used to unload this data into a JSON file.

NEW QUESTION # 115

Which Snowflake URL type is used by directory tables?

- A. Pre-signed
- B. Scoped
- C. Virtual-hosted style
- D. File

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Snowflake URL type used by directory tables is the scoped URL. This type of URL provides access to files in a stage with metadata, such as the Snowflake file URL, for each file.

NEW QUESTION # 116

When should a stored procedure be created with caller's rights?

- A. When the stored procedure needs to run with the privileges of the role that called the stored procedure

- B. When the caller needs to be prevented from viewing the source code of the stored procedure
- C. When the caller needs to run a statement that could not execute outside of the stored procedure
- D. When the stored procedure needs to operate on objects that the caller does not have privileges on

Answer: A

Explanation:

Stored procedures in Snowflake can be created with either 'owner's rights' or 'caller's rights'. A stored procedure created with caller's rights executes with the privileges of the role that calls the procedure, not the privileges of the role that owns the procedure. This is particularly useful in scenarios where the procedure needs to perform operations that depend on the caller's access permissions, ensuring that the procedure can only access objects that the caller is authorized to access.
