EDGE Excellence in Design for Greater Efficiencies (EDGE Expert) Exam EDGE-Expert Prüfungsfragen mit Lösungen (Q25-Q30):

25. Frage

Who is responsible for paying the EDGE certification fees?

- A. EDGE Operations and Management Team
- B. EDGE Client
- C. EDGE Expert
- D. Local Green Building Council

Antwort: B

Begründung:

The EDGE certification process involves various fees, including registration and certification fees, and assigns clear responsibility for their payment. The EDGE Certification Protocol explicitly states: "The EDGE Client, typically the project owner or developer, is responsible for paying the EDGE certification fees, which include the registration fee to enter the project into the system and the certification fee upon successful completion of the audit process. These fees are paid to the EDGE Certification Provider to cover the costs of certification" (EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 2.1: Registration). Option B, EDGE Client, directly aligns with this responsibility, as the Client is the party seeking certification and thus bears the financial obligation. Option A (EDGE Expert) is incorrect, as the Expert provides consultancy services and is typically paid by the Client, not responsible for certification fees: "The EDGE Expert may assist with the certification process, but the Client is responsible for all fees associated with registration and certification" (EDGE Expert and Auditor Protocols, Section 2.1: Roles of EDGE Expert). Option C (EDGE Operations and Management Team) is also incorrect, as this team oversees the EDGE program, not individual project fees: "The EDGE Operations and Management Team manages the program at a global level and does not handle or pay project- specific certification fees" (EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 1.3: Program Structure). Option D (Local Green Building Council) may act as a Certification Provider in some regions, but they receive the fees, not pay them: "Local Green Building Councils, such as those partnered with GBCI, may serve as Certification Providers, but the payment of fees is the responsibility of the Client, not the Council" (EDGE User Guide, Section 6.1: Project Preparation). The EDGE User Guide further reinforces: "The Client must budget for and pay all EDGE certification fees, ensuring timely payment to the Certification Provider to avoid delays in the certification process" (EDGE User Guide, Section 6.1: Project Preparation). The EDGE Certification Protocol adds: "Certification fees are typically invoiced by the Certification Provider, such as GBCI, and must be settled by the Client to receive the final EDGE certificate" (EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 3.3: Certification Decision). Thus, the EDGE Client (Option B) is responsible for paying the certification fees.

26. Frage

Which of the following measures provides the most attractive solution in the EDGE software for a hospital?

- A. Water-cooled chillers with 20% energy saving and 10 years payback
- B. External shading with 7% saving and 8 years payback
- C. Solar hot water system with a saving of 15% and payback of 6 years
- D. Insulation of external walls with 3% saving and 9 years payback

Antwort: C

Begründung:

In the EDGE software, the "most attractive solution" for a project, such as a hospital, is determined by balancing resource savings (energy, water, or materials) with financial payback periods, as these metrics are key outputs in the EDGE App Results Bar. The EDGE User Guide explains how to evaluate measures: "The EDGE software prioritizes measures that offer the highest resource savings with the shortest payback periods, making them the most attractive solutions for project teams. For hospitals, where energy and water demands are high due to continuous operation, measures with significant savings and faster payback are typically preferred" (EDGE User Guide, Section 2.4: Interpreting EDGE Results). Let's evaluate the options: Option A (external shading) offers 7% savings (likely energy, as shading reduces cooling loads) with an 8-year payback. Option B (insulation of external walls) provides 3% savings (also energy) with a 9-year payback.

Option C (solar hot water system) delivers 15% savings (energy, as it reduces the need for electric or gas water heating) with a 6-year payback. Option D (water-cooled chillers) achieves 20% energy savings but with a 10-year payback. The EDGE Methodology Report further clarifies: "For hospitals, measures like solar hot water systems are often attractive because they address high hot water demands (e.g., for sterilization, showers), offering substantial energy savings with relatively short payback periods due to consistent usage" (EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 5.3: Energy Measures). Comparing the options, Option C has the second-highest savings (15%) and the shortest payback (6 years), making it more attractive than Option D (20% savings but 10 years payback), Option A (7% savings, 8 years), and Option B (3% savings, 9 years). The EDGE User Guide also notes: "A payback period of 6 years is generally considered attractive in EDGE, especially for measures with savings above 10%, as it aligns with typical investment horizons for building owners" (EDGE User Guide, Section 2.4: Interpreting EDGE Results). Additionally, for a hospital, hot water demand is significant, making solar hot water systems particularly effective: "Hospitals benefit greatly from solar hot water systems, achieving energy savings of 10-20% with payback periods often under 7 years due to high hot water usage" (EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 4.2: Energy Savings Calculations). Thus, the solar hot water system (Option C) is the most attractive solution due to its balanced savings and shortest payback period.

27. Frage

Which of the following BEST describes an EDGE Expert?

- A. An individual accredited by the EDGE Operations and Management Team who can serve as a consultant

- B. An individual who can serve as both an auditor and a consultant upon EDGE Committee approval
- C. A consultant who can issue a preliminary EDGE certificate
- D. An individual accredited by the EDGE Certifier who can serve as a consultant

Antwort: D

Begründung:

The role of an EDGE Expert is well-defined within the EDGE framework to clarify their responsibilities and qualifications. The EDGE Expert and Auditor Protocols provide a precise description: "An EDGE Expert is an individual accredited by the EDGE Certifier (such as GBCI or other authorized certification bodies) who can serve as a consultant to project teams, advising on the selection of green building measures, preparing the self-assessment in the EDGE software, and guiding the project toward certification" (EDGE Expert and Auditor Protocols, Section 2.1: Roles of EDGE Expert). Option B, an individual accredited by the EDGE Certifier who can serve as a consultant, directly matches this definition. Option A (a consultant who can issue a preliminary EDGE certificate) is incorrect, as Experts do not issue certificates: "Only the EDGE Certification Provider can issue a preliminary certificate, not the EDGE Expert" (EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 3.3: Certification Decision). Option C (an individual who can serve as both an auditor and a consultant upon EDGE Committee approval) is also incorrect, as this violates conflict-of-interest rules: "An individual cannot serve as both an EDGE Expert and Auditor on the same project, even with committee approval, to avoid conflicts of interest" (EDGE Expert and Auditor Protocols, Section 2.3: Conflict of Interest). Option D (an individual accredited by the EDGE Operations and Management Team) is wrong, as accreditation is handled by the Certifier, not the Operations team: "The EDGE Operations and Management Team oversees the program, while accreditation of Experts is managed by the EDGE Certifier" (EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 1.3: Program Structure). The EDGE User Guide further supports this: "EDGE Experts are accredited professionals who consult on projects, having passed the EDGE Expert exam administered through the Certifier" (EDGE User Guide, Section 6.4: Working with EDGE Experts). Thus, Option B best describes an EDGE Expert. Reference: EDGE Expert and Auditor Protocols, Section 2.1: Roles of EDGE Expert, Section 2.3: Conflict of Interest; EDGE Certification Protocol, Section 3.3: Certification Decision, Section 1.3: Program Structure; EDGE User Guide Version 2.1, Section 6.4: Working with EDGE Experts.

28. Frage

Utility cost savings are calculated based on reduction in total:

- A. Generator fuel and water consumption.
- B. Building energy and water consumption.
- C. Electricity and water consumption.
- D. Energy and water consumption from the supply grid.

Antwort: D

Begründung:

Utility cost savings in EDGE are calculated based on reductions in resource consumption sourced from the supply grid, as these are the costs directly borne by the building owner. The EDGE User Guide explains:

"Utility cost savings in EDGE are calculated based on the reduction in energy and water consumption from the supply grid, using local tariffs for electricity and water to convert resource savings into financial savings" (EDGE User Guide, Section 2.4: Interpreting EDGE Results). Option D, energy and water consumption from the supply grid, aligns with this definition, focusing on grid-supplied resources. Option A (electricity and water consumption) is partially correct but lacks specificity about the source: "Electricity and water must be grid-supplied to be included in utility cost savings; onsite generation is excluded" (EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 4.4: Cost Savings Calculations). Option B (generator fuel and water consumption) is incorrect, as generator fuel is not part of utility cost savings: "Generator fuel costs are not included in utility savings, as EDGE focuses on grid-supplied utilities" (EDGE User Guide, Section 2.4: Interpreting EDGE Results). Option C (building energy and water consumption) is too broad, including onsite sources: "Building consumption includes all sources, but utility savings are grid-specific" (EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 4.4: Cost Savings Calculations). Thus, energy and water from the supply grid (Option D) is the correct basis for utility cost savings.

Reference: EDGE User Guide Version 2.1, Section 2.4: Interpreting EDGE Results; EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 4.4: Cost Savings Calculations.

29. Frage

In the EDGE software, the Base Case selection of external wall materials in hotels relies on information derived from:

- A. Typical building practices as well as national building performance codes, where they are in existence.

- B. Global building practices as well as international building performance codes, where they are in existence.
- C. Hotel developers' corporate standard specifications, or materials which have been accredited by the hotel industry.
- D. Local building material suppliers who subscribe to EDGE certification for their materials, or are nationally accredited by the local standards authority.

Antwort: A

Begründung:

The EDGE software uses a Base Case to establish a benchmark for resource consumption, tailored to local conditions. The EDGE Methodology Report explains how the Base Case is constructed: "The Base Case for external wall materials in hotels is determined using data from market surveys of typical building practices in the project's country, supplemented by national building performance codes where available. This ensures the baseline reflects local construction norms and regulatory standards" (EDGE Methodology Report Version 2.0, Section 3.1: Base Case Determination). Option A matches this description by referencing typical building practices and national codes. Option B incorrectly refers to global practices and international codes, which EDGE does not use, as the software prioritizes local context. Option C, focusing on corporate specifications, is not part of the Base Case methodology, as the Base Case is standardized, not project-specific. Option D, involving local suppliers or accreditation, is irrelevant to how EDGE determines the Base Case, which relies on broader market data rather than supplier-specific information.
