UiPath Certified Professional Agentic Automation Associate (UiAAA) Sample Questions (Q55-Q60):

NEW QUESTION # 55
What is a key feature of zero-shot prompting?

- A. It ensures the model has been fine-tuned for all tasks it encounters.
- B. The model performs tasks without prior examples or training specific to the request.
- C. It requires at least one example in the prompt for efficient completion.
- D. This is necessary for complex or nuanced scenarios.

Answer: B

Explanation:
The correct answer isA- zero-shot prompting refers toasking an LLM to perform a task without providing any prior examples in the prompt. In UiPath Agentic Automation, this is considered the simplest form of task prompting and is often used when:
* The request isstraightforwardorfamiliar to the LLM
* There'sno need for detailed contextor task demonstration

* You want rapid generation without lengthy prompt design
UiPath distinguisheszero-shot,few-shot, andchain-of-thought promptingas part of itsPrompt Engineering Toolkit. While zero-shot is fast and scalable, it's not ideal fornuanced or ambiguous tasks, which often benefit fromfew-shot examplesor structured reasoning steps.
Option B is misleading - complex scenarios usuallyrequiremore grounding.
C contradicts the definition of zero-shot.
D confuses prompting withmodel fine-tuning, which is a separate concept.
Zero-shot works well for common, templated tasks (e.g., classifying "Is this urgent?") but is less reliable in dynamic, multi-intent agent behaviors.

NEW QUESTION # 56
Which persona typically models agentic processes in Maestro with BPMN and governs their full lifecycle?

- A. Process excellence analysts optimizing performance
- B. Process operations teams and system admins
- C. Process owners in business teams
- D. Automation developers in the Center of Excellence

Answer: C

Explanation:
The correct answer isD- according to UiPath'sMaestro orchestration framework, theprocess ownerplays a central role in defining and governing agentic workflows.
In UiPath Maestro:
* Process ownersuseBPMN diagramsto map the flow of work, decision points, hand-offs, and automation steps.
* They defineagent boundaries, escalation rules, and success conditions.
* This model empowersbusiness-side expertsto own automation design while working alongside technical teams.
Unlike classic automation that's owned by IT or CoE developers, agentic processes requirebusiness-context awareness, makingprocess ownersessential to managing thefull lifecycle- from design to governance to optimization.
Options A and B refer to support roles. Option C (developers) implement parts of the design, but don't usually govern the lifecycle or own the process vision.
This reflects UiPath's broader push forbusiness-led automation, enabled by Maestro and Autopilot™ in Studio Web.

NEW QUESTION # 57
While configuring an Integration Service activity as a tool for your agent in Studio Web, how should you set up the activity so the agent can decide the value of a required field (e.g. Channel Id) at runtime based solely on instructions in the prompt?

- A. Declare the field as an output argument in Data Manager so the agent can feed a value back into the tool.
- B. Leave the field's input method on Prompt (the default) and keep or refine the tool description; this lets the agent infer the value during execution.
- C. Change every field, including Channel Id, to Argument because an agent cannot infer any field values without explicit arguments.
- D. Change every field, including Channel Id, to Variable because an agent cannot infer any field values without explicit arguments.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Bis correct - when a field (likeChannel Id) is set toPrompt, the agent will attempt to infer its valueat runtime, based on theinstructions in the promptand the context provided.
This is the default and preferred mode for agent tools when:
* The agent has enough context or memory to decide
* You wantLLM autonomyin filling the field dynamically
* You're using prompt instructions like: "Post to the user's default Slack channel" Option A is incorrect - "Argument" is used when you're passing aspecific variableinto the agent prompt (not inferred).
C misunderstands data flow direction - "Output" is not relevant for input fields.
D is invalid - "Variable" is not the standard method for field inference in this scenario.
This aligns with UiPath'sagent + tools orchestrationmodel usingStudio Web's low-code agent builder.

NEW QUESTION # 58
Which similarity search function is leveraged when Context Grounding is used by UiPath Products like Agents?

- A. Softmax similarity search
- B. ReLu similarity search
- C. Sigmoid similarity search
- D. Cosine similarity search

Answer: D

Explanation:
Cis correct - UiPath'sContext Groundingsystem usescosine similarity searchto retrieve the most relevant documents, passages, or semantic chunks from indexed data during runtime.
This retrieval process is critical for:
* Minimizing hallucination
* Enhancingprompt grounding
* Connecting agents toreal-time enterprise knowledge
Here's how it works:
* All documents areembedded into vector spaceusing a model (e.g., OpenAI or Azure OpenAI embeddings)
* At runtime, the agent's query isconverted into a vector
* Acosine similaritycomparison is used to fetch themost semantically similar documentsbased onangle (not magnitude)between vectors This enables agents to provideaccurate, contextual answers, like referencing HR policies or IT guides.
Other options:
* A (Softmax) is a classifier, not a search method
* B (Sigmoid) is for binary classification
* D (ReLU) is an activation function in neural nets - not for search

NEW QUESTION # 59
You want your agent to call an existing UiPath process by adding it in the Tools # Processes. Which prerequisite must be met before the process becomes selectable?

- A. Any process published anywhere in the tenant automatically appears in the list without additional deployment or permissions.
- B. The process only appears if it exposes at least one String output argument, regardless of where it is deployed, otherwise the Agent tool would be irrelevant for the Agent.
- C. The process only appears if it exposes at least one String input argument, regardless of where it is deployed, otherwise the Agent tool would be irrelevant for the Agent.
- D. The process must already be published and deployed to a shared Orchestrator folder that you (and the agent) have permission to access.

Answer: D

Explanation:
Bis the correct answer - in UiPath'sAgent Builder (Studio Web), when you want to invoke an existing UiPath process from an agent (viaTools # Processes), that process must meettwo key prerequisites:
* It must be published and deployed to a shared Orchestrator folder
* You - and the agent - must have access to that folder
This ensures that:
* The agent canlocate and run the processat execution time
* Role-based access control (RBAC) is respected
* Input/output arguments, execution logs, and exceptions are properly managed within the correct environment This aligns with UiPath'sOrchestrator-integrated agent orchestration model, where security and deployment visibility are tightly governed. It also allows agent authors toreuse existing RPA logicinside dynamic agent flows without duplicating automation work.
Option A and D incorrectly imply that argument types affect process visibility - that's false. Agents can invoke processes withany argument signature, as long as mapping is defined.
Option C is incorrect - publishing alone is not enough.Deployment and permissionsare required for the process to appear in the tool selector.
This model ensures that agents can call any compliant UiPath processsecurely, reliably, and in line with enterprise governance.
