VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Administrator Sample Questions (Q65-Q70):

NEW QUESTION # 65

An administrator has been tasked with deploying a VCF-Aware VMware Aria Suite Lifecycle within a newly provisioned VMware Cloud Foundation environment.

Which four details will the Cloud Administrator require to complete the deployment via SDDC Manager?
(Choose four.)

- A. The FQDN of the Aria Suite Lifecycle cluster
- B. The password for the admin@local account
- C. The password for the vcfadmin@local account
- D. The FQDN of the Aria Suite Lifecycle appliance
- E. A free IP Address within the cross-region virtual network segment
- F. The password for the root account
- G. A free IP address on the VMware NSX Tier 0

Answer: A,C,D,F

Explanation:

The fully qualified domain name (FQDN) of the Aria Suite Lifecycle appliance and cluster are necessary for proper configuration and integration within the VMware Cloud Foundation environment.

The password for the root account is required to authenticate and provide administrative access to the environment.

The password for the vcfadmin@local account is needed to perform administrative tasks related to VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF).

NEW QUESTION # 66

An Administrator has been tasked with deploying an Organization for All Applications within a new VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation. During the regional networking creation step, which four NSX constructs will automatically be configured? (Choose four.)

- A. A Provider Tier-0 Gateway
- B. An outbound Source Network Address Translation (SNAT) rule
- C. A Default Virtual Private Cloud (VPC)
- D. An outbound Destination Network Address Translation (DNAT) rule
- E. A Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) connectivity profile
- F. An NSX Transit Gateway
- G. A Virtual Distributed Switch (VDS)

Answer: A,B,C,E

Explanation:

In VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0, the introduction of the Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) model within VCF Automation (formerly Aria Automation) simplifies multi-tenancy. When an administrator creates an organization and configures regional networking, the system automates the deployment of several high-level NSX objects to provide isolated networking for that organization's applications.

According to the VCF 9.0 Automation and Networking Guide:

A Provider Tier-0 Gateway (C): This is the top-level logical router in the VCF environment. During the regional networking setup, the system identifies or configures the Provider T0 to act as the primary exit point for North-South traffic for the organization.

A Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) connectivity profile (E): This profile defines the networking "flavor" (such as IP blocks, DNS, and security settings) that will be applied to the organization's VPCs. It acts as the template for how the VPC interacts with the provider's physical and logical infrastructure.

A Default Virtual Private Cloud (VPC) (B): Upon completing the organization setup, VCF Automation provisions a default VPC for that organization. This VPC serves as the logical container for the tenant's subnets, security groups, and routing.

An outbound Source Network Address Translation (SNAT) rule (A): To allow virtual machines within the newly created VPC to access external resources (the internet or corporate network) while using private IP space, the system automatically creates an outbound SNAT rule on the gateway associated with the VPC or the Provider T0.

Why other options are incorrect:

A Virtual Distributed Switch (VDS) (D): The VDS is a foundational component of the VCF VI Workload Domain created during Day 1 operations. It is not "automatically configured" during the high-level regional networking step of a VCF Automation organization; it must already exist.

An NSX Transit Gateway (E): While NSX uses Tier-0 and Tier-1 gateways for transit, "Transit Gateway" is a specific term often associated with public cloud (AWS) integrations. In the context of VCF 9.0 regional networking for a VPC, the core constructs are the T0/T1 and VPC profiles.

An outbound Destination Network Address Translation (DNAT) rule (G): DNAT is typically used for inbound traffic (mapping a public IP to a private internal IP). Outbound traffic uses SNAT to mask the internal IP as it leaves the organization.

NEW QUESTION # 67

An administrator has been tasked with creating a region to provide resources to an Organization in VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) Automation.

The following information has been provided:

Two workload domains will integrate with the region.

All workload domains share a VMware NSX Manager.

All workload domains use VMware vSAN storage.

All workload domain vCenter instances have Supervisor enabled.

Before creating the region, what two additional configurations should the administrator validate? (Choose two.)

- A. A Region Quota has been created and associated with the Organization.
- B. All required storage classes are present and have the same names across the VMware vCenter instances.
- C. All required VMware (VM) classes are present and have the same names across all VMware vCenter instances.
- D. A VCF Automation Organization for VMware (VM) Applications has been created.
- E. All required Reserved VMware (VM) classes are present and have the same names across all VMware vCenter instances.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

When creating a Region in VCF Automation, multiple workload domains can be aggregated to provide capacity to Organizations. For consistent provisioning across domains, resource constructs must be uniform.

The VCF 9.0 Automation documentation specifies:

VM Classes must exist with identical names across integrated vCenters to ensure consistent deployment behavior.

Storage Classes must also be consistently defined across Supervisors to allow Kubernetes and VM workloads to consume storage predictably.

Region quotas (A) are applied after region creation.

Reserved VM Classes (C) are not a prerequisite unless specifically required for policy enforcement.

An Organization for VM Applications (D) is not required prior to region creation.

Thus, the administrator must validate:

Consistent VM Classes (B)

Consistent Storage Classes (E)

NEW QUESTION # 68

An administrator is responsible for managing a VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) solution. A 3-node vSAN Express Storage Architecture (ESA) cluster currently runs workloads using a storage policy configured with RAID-5. The administrator has been tasked with enabling auto-policy management in vSAN ESA.

Given the scenario, what is the minimum number of hosts required for running workloads with RAID-5?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 69

An administrator is tasked with ensuring the security of network traffic during the migration of virtual machines (VMs) to prevent any potential interception or tampering of data.

What specific feature or configuration should the administrator enable to safeguard the integrity and confidentiality of the network traffic involved in VM migration?

- A. Encrypted vSphere vMotion
- B. Virtual Machine Encryption
- C. vSphere High Availability (HA)
- D. vSphere Distributed Resource Scheduler

Answer: A

Explanation:

Enabling Encrypted vSphere vMotion encrypts the vMotion network traffic, ensuring the confidentiality and integrity of data as it travels between hosts.
