Salesforce Certified Advanced Administrator Sample Questions (Q104-Q109):

NEW QUESTION # 104

Northern Trail Outfitters has many users set up as system administrators to perform Salesforce Administration. Which two functions would a delegated administrator be able to perform in order to help the existing Salesforce Administrator? Choose 2 answers

- A. Manage custom objects and customize nearly every aspect.
- B. Set up users and password management.
- C. Configure updates to sharing rules.
- D. Make updates to permission set configurations.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Delegated administrators in Salesforce are designated users who are given limited administrative privileges to assist system administrators without having full access to all administrative functions. The two functions they can typically perform, which align with the permissions available to delegated admins, are:

* Set up users and password management:

* Delegated administrators can create and manage user accounts, which includes setting up new users, resetting passwords, and updating user details.

* This is particularly useful for helping with user management tasks without providing full system administrator access.

* Configure updates to sharing rules:

* Delegated administrators can manage sharing rules within their specific groups or roles, which helps control access to records based on criteria set within the organization.

* This level of access allows them to modify sharing rules to ensure appropriate data access without requiring full administrative control over all settings.

The other options listed are not within the scope of delegated administrator capabilities:

* Manage custom objects and customize nearly every aspect: Delegated administrators do not have the ability to manage custom objects or perform extensive customization. These functions are reserved for system administrators with broader privileges.

* Make updates to permission set configurations: Delegated administrators cannot create or modify permission sets. This is also restricted to full administrators, as it involves controlling access at a granular level across the org.

By utilizing delegated administrators for user and sharing rule management, organizations can maintain security and control while also sharing some administrative workload.

Reference: According to Salesforce documentation, delegated administrators have specific permissions, such as managing users and sharing rules, which support system administrators while limiting access to high-level customizations and configurations.

- A. Create a custom report type for Accounts without Opportunities
- B. Create a Joined report using the Accounts report type and the Opportunities report types
- C. Create a summary report using the Accounts report type with a formula field for opportunity count

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 108

A sales user is assigned to a permission set group that gives them Modify All access to Accounts. An administrator assigns the same user to a muting permission set that mutes Deletes access on Account.

What level of access will the sales user have on the Account object?

- A. Read-only
- B. No Access
- C. Read, Create, and Edit
- D. Modify All

Answer: D

Explanation:

Modify All is the level of access that the sales user will have on the Account object after being assigned to a muting permission set that mutes Delete access on Account. Muting permissions are a way to reduce or remove access to objects or fields for users who are assigned to permission set groups. Muting permissions can only mute object-level permissions, such as Create, Read, Edit, Delete, View All, or Modify All, but not field-level permissions or other permissions. Muting permissions can only reduce or remove access that is granted by other permission sets or permission set groups within the same permission set group, but not by profiles or other sources of access. Therefore, in this case, the muting permission set will only mute the Delete access on Account that is granted by the permission set group, but not the Modify All access that is also granted by the permission set group.
