ACAMS Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialist (CAMS7 the 7th edition) Sample Questions (Q237-Q242):

NEW QUESTION # 237

The United Nations Security Council (UNSC) is empowered to impose sanctions regimes against countries and terrorist organizations. Which statements are true regarding sanctions imposed by the UNSC? (Select Two.)

- A. Attempts to circumvent or evade sanctions imposed by the UNSC can constitute a criminal offense if designated under local laws and regulations
- B. Member countries of the United Nations are expected to implement and enforce sanctions imposed by the UNSC
- C. The UN can impose arms embargoes but cannot prohibit direct or indirect exports of other goods to specific countries
- D. Direct breaches of sanctions imposed by the UNSC constitute a criminal offense in all member countries

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

The United Nations Security Council (UNSC) is authorized under the UN Charter to impose binding sanctions measures on member states. These sanctions may target countries, entities, or individuals and can include arms embargoes, travel bans, asset freezes, and restrictions on trade or financial services.

Statement A is correct:

Circumventing or evading UNSC sanctions may constitute a criminal offense if the jurisdiction has incorporated UN obligations into domestic law. While the UNSC does not directly impose criminal penalties, member states must implement these measures locally, and many jurisdictions have laws that make such violations criminal acts.

Statement C is correct:

Member countries of the United Nations are expected to implement and enforce UNSC sanctions, in accordance with their obligations under the UN Charter (specifically Chapter VII). Countries are responsible for transposing these sanctions into their national legal frameworks.

NEW QUESTION # 238

A US bank recently received a regulatory order to remediate its AML programs, which included several violations of law. What degree of accountability is it possible for the bank's senior management and employees to face?

- A. The bank's designated AML compliance officer is likely to face criminal prosecution because the bank received a regulatory order
- B. The bank's designated AML compliance officer and senior management may face personal liability if they failed to take actions while aware of AML violations at the bank
- C. The bank's designated AML compliance officer is the only individual in the company's senior management team that can face personal liability for violation of AML laws
- D. The bank's designated AML compliance officer and senior management can face civil prosecution but not criminal prosecution for violation of AML laws

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 239

Which of the following are red flags pertaining to potentially suspicious transactions by a customer? (Select Three.)

- A. A customer has regular deposits and withdrawals primarily in wire transfers.
- B. A customer deposits a large number of consecutively numbered money orders.
- C. A customer requests loans made to local companies or secured by obligations of local banks.
- D. A customer receives wire transfers from different unknown accounts which are immediately wired onwards to a third party.
- E. A customer withdraws cash in amounts just under the reporting threshold.

Answer: B,D,E

NEW QUESTION # 240

Which of the following processes or tools contribute to AML compliance despite being seemingly unrelated? (Choose two.)

- A. Customer loyalty program tracking
- B. Customer satisfaction surveys

- C. Credit risk assessment
- D. Customer support ticket tracking
- E. Product usage analysis

Answer: A,E

Explanation:

Customer loyalty program tracking and product usage analysis can uncover unusual patterns or behaviors that deviate from expected norms. These insights may help detect suspicious activity or hidden risks, making them valuable tools for supporting AML compliance even if not directly linked to traditional monitoring systems.

NEW QUESTION # 241

What is the MAIN benefit of maintaining comprehensive AML training programs?

- A. Reduce customer onboarding requirements
- B. Ensure employees recognize and escalate suspicious activity
- C. Replace transaction monitoring systems entirely
- D. Eliminate all compliance risks permanently

Answer: B

Explanation:

AML training helps employees understand regulatory obligations, identify red flags, and escalate concerns appropriately. Well-trained staff strengthen the effectiveness of internal controls and reduce the likelihood that suspicious activity will go undetected due to human error or lack of awareness.
