Databricks Certified Data Engineer Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q69-Q74):

NEW QUESTION # 69

A data engineer runs a statement every day to copy the previous day's sales into the table transactions. Each day's sales are in their own file in the location `"/transactions/raw"`.

Today, the data engineer runs the following command to complete this task:

After running the command today, the data engineer notices that the number of records in table transactions has not changed.

Which of the following describes why the statement might not have copied any new records into the table?

- A. The previous day's file has already been copied into the table.
- B. The format of the files to be copied were not included with the FORMAT_OPTIONS keyword.
- C. The PARQUET file format does not support COPY INTO.
- D. The COPY INTO statement requires the table to be refreshed to view the copied rows.
- E. The names of the files to be copied were not included with the FILES keyword.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

<https://docs.databricks.com/en/ingestion/copy-into/index.html> The COPY INTO SQL command lets you load data from a file location into a Delta table. This is a re-tryable and idempotent operation; files in the source location that have already been loaded are skipped. If there are no new records, the only consistent choice is C no new files were loaded because already loaded files were skipped.

NEW QUESTION # 70

A new data engineering team has been assigned to an ELT project. The new data engineering team will need full privileges on the table sales to fully manage the project.

Which of the following commands can be used to grant full permissions on the database to the new data engineering team?

- A. GRANT USAGE ON TABLE sales TO team;
- B. GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON TABLE team TO sales;
- C. GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON TABLE sales TO team;
- D. GRANT SELECT ON TABLE sales TO team;
- E. GRANT SELECT CREATE MODIFY ON TABLE sales TO team;

Answer: C

Explanation:

To grant full permissions on a table to a user or a group, you can use the GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON TABLE statement. This statement will grant all the possible privileges on the table, such as SELECT, CREATE, MODIFY, DROP, ALTER, etc. Option A is the only code block that follows this syntax correctly. Option B is incorrect, as it does not grant all the possible privileges on the table, but only a subset of them. Option C is incorrect, as it only grants the SELECT privilege on the table, which is not enough to fully manage the project. Option D is incorrect, as it grants the USAGE privilege on the table, which is not a valid privilege for tables. Option E is incorrect, as it grants all the privileges on the table team to the user or group sales, which is the opposite of what the question asks. Reference: Grant privileges on a table using SQL | Databricks on AWS, Grant privileges on a table using SQL - Azure Databricks, SQL Privileges - Databricks

NEW QUESTION # 71

A data architect has determined that a table of the following format is necessary:

Which of the following code blocks uses SQL DDL commands to create an empty Delta table in the above format regardless of whether a table already exists with this name?

- A. Option D
- B. Option B
- C. Option A
- D. Option E
- E. Option C

Answer: D

Explanation:

Create a table using SQL | Databricks on AWS, Create a table using SQL - Azure Databricks, Delta Lake Quickstart - Azure Databricks

NEW QUESTION # 72

Which of the following describes the relationship between Gold tables and Silver tables?

- A. Gold tables are more likely to contain more data than Silver tables.
- B. Gold tables are more likely to contain valuable data than Silver tables.
- C. Gold tables are more likely to contain a less refined view of data than Silver tables.
- D. Gold tables are more likely to contain truthful data than Silver tables.
- E. Gold tables are more likely to contain aggregations than Silver tables.

Answer: E

Explanation:

Explanation

In some data processing pipelines, especially those following a typical "Bronze-Silver-Gold" data lakehouse architecture, Silver tables are often considered a more refined version of the raw or Bronze data. Silver tables may include data cleansing, schema enforcement, and some initial transformations. Gold tables, on the other hand, typically represent a stage where data is further enriched, aggregated, and processed to provide valuable insights for analytical purposes. This could indeed involve more aggregations compared to Silver tables.

NEW QUESTION # 73

A data analyst has a series of queries in a SQL program. The data analyst wants this program to run every day. They only want the final query in the program to run on Sundays. They ask for help from the data engineering team to complete this task.

Which of the following approaches could be used by the data engineering team to complete this task?

- A. They could submit a feature request with Databricks to add this functionality.
- B. They could wrap the queries using PySpark and use Python's control flow system to determine when to run the final query.
- C. They could automatically restrict access to the source table in the final query so that it is only accessible on Sundays.
- D. They could redesign the data model to separate the data used in the final query into a new table.
- E. They could only run the entire program on Sundays.

Answer: B
