CompTIA Cloud Essentials+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q304-Q309):

NEW QUESTION # 304

Which of the following applications is MOST suitable for a cloud computing pilot?

- A. Applications that are easy to migrate and have some business value
- B. Legacy applications that are coupled to specific hardware and systems software

- C. Applications with high risk and little business value
- D. Applications that are currently expensive to maintain because of interconnections

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 305

The IT department has noticed the costs associated with the server are increasing. The application is scheduled to run uninterrupted for at least two years, and the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) would like the IT department to investigate ways to decrease the costs. Which of the following would MOST likely help to decrease the costs of the server?

- A. Convert the server to a reserved instance.
- B. Configure resource tagging on the server.
- C. Utilize spot instances.
- D. Run the server in a sandbox environment.
- E. Migrate the server to another CSP.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A reserved instance is a type of cloud instance that offers a discounted hourly rate and capacity reservation for a specific period of time, typically one or three years. Reserved instances are suitable for applications that have predictable usage patterns and require uninterrupted performance. By converting the server to a reserved instance, the IT department can reduce the costs of the server by up to 72%, compared to on-demand instances. Additionally, reserved instances can provide more stability and availability than spot instances, which are subject to interruption and fluctuating prices.
