Cloudera CDP Data Engineer - Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q208-Q213):

NEW QUESTION # 208

You need to design a DAG that can be easily triggered based on external events or data availability. How can you achieve this functionality?

- A. Rely on manual intervention to trigger the DAG whenever necessary.
- B. Utilize Airflow sensors like FileSensor or S3KeySensor to wait for specific conditions before triggering the DAG.
- C. Implement custom code within the DAG to actively check for external events or data availability.
- D. Schedule the DAG to run continuously at a fixed interval.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 209

What are the potential trade-offs to consider when using checkpointing in Spark applications?

- A. Checkpointing requires manual configuration and can be error-prone
- B. Checkpointing always improves performance and has no drawbacks
- C. All of the above
- D. Checkpointing introduces overhead for storing and recovering data, impacting performance

Answer: C,D

Explanation:
While checkpointing offers benefits, it comes with trade-offs. It adds overhead for storing and recovering data, potentially impacting performance B. Configuring checkpoints effectively is crucial to avoid unnecessary overhead. Option A is incorrect, and while configuration is involved, it's not inherently error-prone C when done carefully.

NEW QUESTION # 210

While working with Spark SQL, you encounter an error message stating "Unable to resolve table 'table_name'". What could be the potential cause of this error?

- A. The table doesn't exist in the Hive metastore
- B. The table schema is not compatible with Spark SQL
- C. All of the above
- D. The Spark application doesn't have sufficient permissions to access the table

Answer: C

Explanation:
All listed options could potentially lead to the error message. The table might not exist in the Hive metastore A, access permissions might be insufficient B, or the schema might not be compatible with Spark SQL C. Examining the metastore, checking permissions, and validating the schema can help diagnose the specific cause.

NEW QUESTION # 211

What is the significance of "Sort Merge Join" appearing in an Explain Plan in Cloudera's SQL engines?

- A. It signifies that the join operation is performed by sorting and then merging two datasets, which can be efficient for large, sorted datasets
- B. It suggests that the join operation is performed without sorting, leading to faster execution
- C. It indicates that the query will benefit from additional indexes
- D. It is the least preferred join method due to its high CPU usage

Answer: A

Explanation:
A). "Sort Merge Join" involves sorting two datasets and then merging them based on the join condition. This method can be efficient for large datasets that are already sorted or partially sorted, as it leverages the order of data to reduce the computational overhead of the join operation.

NEW QUESTION # 212

You have deployed a Spark application on Kubernetes, which is experiencing intermittent failures. To improve fault tolerance, you decide to implement checkpointing. Which of the following is the best approach to add checkpointing in a PySpark application?

- A.

Use `spark.sparkContext.setCheckpointDir("hdfs://path/to/checkpoint")` in your PySpark code.
```

- B. Implement checkpointing at the application level outside of Spark.
- C. Enable checkpointing in Kubernetes configuration files.
- D.

Use `spark.checkpoint("hdfs://path/to/checkpoint")` in the Spark configuration.
```

Answer: A

Explanation:
In PySpark, checkpointing is set up by using the 'setCheckpointDir' method on the SparkContext object, not in the Spark configuration or Kubernetes configuration. This method specifies the path where to store the checkpoint data, typically on a distributed storage like HDFS.
