NEW QUESTION # 61

Who updates work remaining during the Sprint? (Choose the best answer)

- A. Scrum Master
- B. Developers
- C. Senior Executives
- D. Product Owner

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Developers own the Sprint Backlog and update it as work progresses. The Scrum Guide states: "The Sprint Backlog is a plan by and for the Developers... As new work is required, the Developers add it to the Sprint Backlog. As work is performed or completed, the estimated remaining work is updated."

* A: The Scrum Master facilitates, not updates.

* B: Correct-the Developers manage it.

NEW QUESTION # 62

What variables should a Product Owner consider when ordering the Product Backlog? (Choose the best answer)

- A. The availability of resources and skills for implementation
- B. Effort first, then value
- C. Development cohesion as indicated by the Developers
- D. Lowest development cost in order to maximize ROI
- E. The availability of resources and skills for implementation
- F. Whatever is most appropriate for the Product Owner to achieve the product's goals and to optimize the value received

Answer: F

Explanation:

The Product Owner's primary duty is to maximize value, with flexibility in how they order the Product Backlog. The Scrum Guide states: "The Product Owner is accountable for effective Product Backlog management, which includes... Ordering Product Backlog items." Option E gives the Product Owner latitude to consider value, effort, risk, dependencies, or other factors relevant to the Product Goal.

* A, C: Prioritizing effort or cost over value is too narrow.

* B: Cohesion is a Developer concern, not the Product Owner's primary focus.

NEW QUESTION # 63

If the Product Backlog is not ready for Sprint Planning, what happens? (Choose the best answer)

- A. Work during Sprint Planning to refine the backlog for one Sprint
- B. Identify enough work for the first day and set up a second Sprint Planning meeting when the Product Owner is ready
- C. Cancel the Sprint until backlog is ready

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Product Backlog is emergent and doesn't need to be fully "ready" before Sprint Planning. The Scrum Guide states: "Sprint Planning initiates the Sprint by laying out the work to be performed for the Sprint." If items aren't refined, the team can refine them during planning to select enough for the Sprint.

* A: Canceling isn't an option; Sprints start immediately after the previous one.

* B: Splitting Sprint Planning isn't supported; it's a single time-boxed event.

NEW QUESTION # 64

Which two statements explain why the Definition of "Done" is important to the Product Owner? (Choose the best two answers)

- A. It identifies undone work that can be addressed in a separate Sprint.
- B. It creates transparency regarding progress within the Scrum Team.
- C. It assures the Increment reviewed at the Sprint Review is usable so the Product Owner may choose to release it.
- D. It helps the Product Owner track the open work during a Sprint.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

The Definition of "Done" ensures quality and usability, critical for the Product Owner's value delivery:

* A: Per the Scrum Guide, a "Done" Increment is usable, enabling the Product Owner to decide on releases at the Sprint Review.

NEW QUESTION # 65

Holding a Sprint 0 is the most effective way to: (Choose the best answer)

- A. There is no Sprint 0 in Scrum
- B. Define a reference architecture
- C. Create a complete Product Backlog
- D. Work on team development

Answer: A

Explanation:

"Sprint 0" is a concept from pre-Scrum practices and isn't part of the official framework. The Scrum Guide mandates that Sprints deliver value: "A Sprint is a time-box of one month or less during which a 'Done', usable, and potentially releasable product Increment is created." A preparatory "Sprint 0" for architecture, team building, or backlog creation contradicts this by not producing an Increment.

* A, B, C: These may occur outside Sprints, but not as a "Sprint 0."
