Nutanix Certified Professional - End User Computing (NCP-EUC) 6.10 Exam Sample Questions (Q50-Q55):

NEW QUESTION # 50

An EUC environment is being deployed with multi-session server OS workloads. An administrator has a requirement for configuring RDS licensing for redundancy across Nutanix clusters.

Which action should the administrator take when configuring the group policy settings needed for this requirement?

- A. Specify the remote desktop license server security group.
- B. Prevent remote desktop license server upgrade.
- C. Use the specified remote desktop license servers.
- D. Set the remote desktop licensing mode.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of Nutanix End User Computing documents:

According to Microsoft RDS and Nutanix Best Practices:

* GPO Configuration: The specific Group Policy Object (GPO) setting used to define which license servers an RD Session Host should contact is titled "Use the specified remote desktop license servers".

* Redundancy: In this policy setting, the administrator can input a list of multiple license servers (IP addresses or FQDNs). If the first server in the list is unreachable (due to a cluster failure or maintenance), the host automatically attempts to contact the subsequent servers, thereby achieving the required redundancy.

NEW QUESTION # 51

An administrator has received an alert where an actionable issue has been detected and user intervention is required. A more serious issue may develop if this is not resolved soon.

What severity level would generate such an alert?

- A. Verbose
- B. Warning
- C. Critical
- D. Info

Answer: B

Explanation:

Nutanix Prism defines alert severity levels as follows:

* Critical: An issue that requires immediate attention; the system or service is likely down or data is at risk.

* Warning: An actionable issue has been detected. The system is currently functioning, but user intervention is required to prevent the issue from escalating. As the prompt states, "a more serious issue may develop if this is not resolved soon."

* Info: System events that are for tracking purposes only (e.g., power on/off).

Therefore, the scenario describes a Warning level alert.

NEW QUESTION # 52

A Windows IO VM fails to power on With an NVIDIA vCPU profile in ESXi 7. The VM is configured with NVIDIA profile by selecting Shared PCI Device, adding the NVIDIA GRID vCPU device. and selecting the Profile under VM settings.

The following error message is displayed in the vSphere web client:

What should be done to resolve this issue?

- A. Switch the GPU mode to compute mode using gpumodeswitch command.
- B. Change the Graphics mode of the host from Shared to Shared Direct
- C. change the Graphics mode of the host from Shared Direct to Shared.
- D. Change the Graphics mode of the host from Shared to Shared Direct
- E. Switch the GPU mode to graphics mode using gpumodeswitch command.

Answer: E

Explanation:

gpumodeswitch is a command-line tool that is used to switch supported NVIDIA GPUs between compute and graphics mode.

Compute mode allows multiple VMs to share a GPU for CUDA workloads. Graphics mode allows a single VM to use a GPU for graphics workloads¹².

NEW QUESTION # 53

Refer to the exhibit.

An administrator is deploying an Instant Clone desktop pool on an 8-node Nutanix cluster. The system displays a warning message, as shown in the exhibit.

What should the administrator do to resolve the issue?

- A. Enable View Storage Accelerator
- B. Safely ignore this warning
- C. Disable Shadow Clones
- D. use both VSA and Shadow Clones

Answer: C

Explanation:

Shadow Clones are a unique feature of the AOS storage that enables distributed caching of virtual disks (vDisks) used by virtual machines1. Shadow Clones provide effective caching optimization in distributed multireader scenarios, such as large VDI and cloud deployments2.

The warning message you see indicates that Shadow Clones are disabled on your Nutanix cluster. This may affect the performance of your Instant Clone desktop pool, as it will not benefit from the caching optimization provided by Shadow Clones.

NEW QUESTION # 54

In a VMware Horizon environment running on Nutanix, an administrator has noticed that create, start, shut down, and delete operations are taking longer than expected, the environment is currently configured with one vCenter instance and has 10,000 virtual desktops. What is the recommended number of vCenter instances in this configuration?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B

Explanation:

vCenter can execute approximately 640 concurrent operations before incoming requests are queued, and can support up to 2,000 concurrent sessions1. VMware Horizon 8 can support up to 120,000 active sessions in a Cloud Pod Architecture pod federation23. Therefore, if the environment has 10,000 virtual desktops, one vCenter instance might not be enough to handle all the operations and sessions efficiently. The recommended number of vCenter instances in this configuration is B (2).
