NEW QUESTION # 44

You have uploaded CSV translation files through the Localization menu in screen-sets, but the screen-sets are displayed How can you fix this?

- A. Using `profile.locale` in `accounts.showScreenSet` call
- B. Using the `customLang` parameter in Web SDK configuration
- C. Using the browser-provided automatic translations
- D. Using the `lang` parameter in Web SDK configuration

Answer: A

Explanation:

If CSV translation files have been uploaded but the screen-sets are not displaying the correct translations, you can fix this issue by specifying the user's locale using the `profile.locale` parameter in the `accounts.showScreenSetAPI` call. This ensures that the correct language translations are applied based on the user's profile.

* Option A: Incorrect. The `customLang` parameter is not a valid configuration option in the Web SDK for applying translations.

* Option B: Incorrect. Browser-provided automatic translations are unrelated to SAP Customer Data Cloud's localization settings and should not be relied upon.

* Option C: Correct. The `profile.locale` parameter in the `accounts.showScreenSet` call explicitly sets the language for the screen-set based on the user's profile.

* Option D: Incorrect. The `lang` parameter in Web SDK configuration is not used to apply translations dynamically during runtime.

- B. `gigya.accounts.b2b.getOrganizationInfo()`
- C. `gigya.accounts.getJWT()`
- D. `gigya.accounts.getAccountInfo()` passing the value `Groups` to the `include` parameter.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To retrieve a list of permissions for the currently logged-in customer in SAP CIAM for B2B, the correct API call is `isgigya.accounts.b2b.getOrganizationInfo()`. This API call provides detailed information about the organization associated with the logged-in user, including their permissions and roles within the organization.

* Option A: Correct. `Thegigya.accounts.b2b.getOrganizationInfo()` API call returns information about the organization, including the permissions and roles of the logged-in user.

* Option B: Incorrect. `Thegigya.accounts.getJWT()` API call generates a JSON Web Token (JWT) for the user but does not provide information about their permissions.

* Option C: Incorrect. `Thegigya.accounts.getAccountInfo()` API call retrieves general account information for the user. While it supports additional parameters like `include`, it does not specifically return permissions related to B2B organizations.
