VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Administrator Sample Questions (Q72-Q77):

NEW QUESTION # 72

An administrator is responsible for maintaining a VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) instance. The administrator has been tasked with scaling the CPU and RAM resources of a virtual machine.

Which three configuration limitations must the administrator consider when completing the task?

(Choose three.)

- A. To add Memory to a powered on virtual machine, Memory Hot Add must be enabled.
- B. To enable Memory Hot Add feature, the virtual machine compatibility must be ESXi 7.0 Update 2 or later.
- C. To add vCPUs to a powered down virtual machine, CPU Hot Add must be enabled.
- D. To enable the CPU Hot Add or Memory Hot Add feature, the virtual machine must be powered off.
- E. To add vCPUs to a powered on virtual machine CPU Hot Add must be enabled.
- F. To remove Memory to a powered on virtual machine, Memory Hot Add must be enabled.

Answer: A,D,E

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

When scaling CPU and RAM for a virtual machine in a VMware Cloud Foundation environment, the administrator must consider these limitations:

To add Memory to a powered on virtual machine, Memory Hot Add must be enabled (A): Without Memory Hot Add, adding memory requires the VM to be powered off.

To add vCPUs to a powered on virtual machine CPU Hot Add must be enabled (C): CPU Hot Add allows additional virtual CPUs to be added while the VM is powered on; otherwise, the VM must be powered off.

To enable the CPU Hot Add or Memory Hot Add feature, the virtual machine must be powered off (F):

These features can only be activated or changed when the VM is not running.

Removing memory while powered on is not supported, and enabling these hot add features does not require the VM to be at a specific hardware compatibility level unless specified by certain new functionalities, but the core requirement is the VM must be powered off to enable the features. Adding vCPUs to a powered off VM does not require CPU Hot Add.

NEW QUESTION # 73

Which tasks can vSphere Lifecycle Manager (vLCM) accomplish in a VMware environment?

- A. Deploying vendor-specific hardware drivers across multiple hosts
- B. Automated ESXi host patching and firmware updates
- C. Configuring vSAN disk groups automatically
- D. Provisioning new VMs from templates

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

vLCM automates ESXi patching, firmware driver deployment (A, C), and can configure vSAN disk group versions (D). VM provisioning (B) is performed via vCenter or Content Library, not specifically vLCM.

NEW QUESTION # 74

While deploying a new VMware Cloud Foundation environment, a cloud administrator validates the information entered into the Deployment Parameter Workbook. The validation action results in an error and the VMware Cloud Builder GUI error message does not identify the cause.

Which logfile can the administrator use to identify the cause of the validation error?

- A. VMware Cloud Builder appliance - vcf-bringup-debug.log
- B. VMware SDDC Manager appliance - vcf-deployment-debug.log
- C. VMware Cloud Builder appliance - vcf-deployment-debug.log
- D. VMware SDDC Manager appliance - vcf-bringup-debug.log

Answer: C

Explanation:

The vcf-deployment-debug.log file on the VMware Cloud Builder appliance contains detailed logs related to the deployment process, including any validation errors. This log will help identify the cause of the error during the deployment validation phase.

NEW QUESTION # 75

When configuring storage on an ESXi host, which of the following must be set up correctly to ensure a stable environment?

- A. Properly defined storage adapters (e.g., iSCSI initiators)
- B. Datastore heartbeats for HA cluster monitoring
- C. Multipathing policies for redundant paths to storage
- D. Direct RAW device mapping of host USB drives for production VMs

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Setting up storage adapters, heartbeat mechanisms (for HA), and multipathing are important for stable operations. Mapping host USB drives (D) to production VMs is not typically a best practice and is rarely used in an enterprise environment.

NEW QUESTION # 76

A multi-tier application running in a VMware environment suffers from performance degradation. Which factors should an administrator examine?

- A. Storage I/O performance metrics and possible contention
- B. Distributed Resource Scheduler (DRS) balance for CPU and memory
- C. Network congestion or VLAN misconfiguration on the virtual switch
- D. vCenter license type to confirm if advanced features are enabled

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Performance issues in a multi-tier application can stem from imbalanced compute resource allocation (DRS), network bottlenecks, or storage contention. The vCenter license type (C) is unlikely to be the direct cause of performance degradation unless required features are disabled.
