ServiceNow Certified System Administrator Sample Questions (Q246-Q251):

NEW QUESTION # 246

How is a user defined in ServiceNow?

- A. A User is a record stored in the Profile [sys_user_profile] table
- B. A user is 2 field in the LOAP integration
- C. user is a record stored in the User Preference [Sys_user_preference] table
- D. A user is a record stored in the User [sys_user] table

Answer: D

Explanation:

In ServiceNow, a user is a record stored in the User [sys_user] table. This table contains details about every user in the system, including their name, email, roles, department, and more.

Stores Core User Information

Each user in ServiceNow is represented as a record in this table.

Standard fields include:

User ID

Name

Email

Roles

Department

Location

Supports Authentication and Permissions

Users are assigned roles and groups, which control what they can access in ServiceNow.

Authentication methods like LDAP, SSO, OAuth, and Local Authentication rely on this table.

Integrates with Other ServiceNow Modules

Users in sys_user are referenced in various tables, such as:

sys_user_role (User Roles)

sys_user_group (User Groups)

sys_user_has_role (Mapping between Users and Roles)

Key Characteristics of the User [sys_user] Table:

A: A user is a record stored in the User Preference [sys_user_preference] table. Incorrect - The sys_user_preference table stores user-specific preferences (e.g., UI settings, default views), not user records.

B: A User is a record stored in the Profile [sys_user_profile] table. Incorrect - There is no standard "sys_user_profile" table in ServiceNow.

C: A user is a field in the LDAP integration. Incorrect - While LDAP can import users into ServiceNow, users themselves are stored in the sys_user table, not in an LDAP-specific field.

Incorrect Answer Choices Analysis:

ServiceNow Docs - User Administration#Managing Users in ServiceNow

ServiceNow Docs - User Table (sys_user)#sys_user Table Overview

Official ServiceNow Documentation References:

Conclusion: The correct answer is:

D: A user is a record stored in the User [sys_user] table

All user records in ServiceNow are stored in the sys_user table, making it the central repository for user management, authentication, and access control.

A manager wants to view a snapshot of month-end Sales performance data, as compared to Sales targets. In addition, the manager wants to be able to see those monthly numbers trended over time, and forecasted into the future. What capability do you suggest for this manager?

- A. Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) - KPIs track metrics but do not inherently provide trend analysis or forecasting.
- B. Scheduled Reports, a custom snapshot table, and a Projection report
- C. Performance Analytics
- D. Scheduled Reports and Excel
- E. Scheduled Reports, a custom snapshot table, and a Trend report

Answer: C

Explanation:

Reference:

ServiceNow Performance Analytics - Forecasting Data

Explanation:

Performance Analytics (PA) is the best solution for the manager's requirements because it provides:

Snapshot of Sales Performance Data - PA allows the creation of historical and real-time dashboards to track sales performance against targets.

Trend Analysis Over Time - With PA, historical data is captured and can be visualized in trend reports, showing patterns over time.

Forecasting Capabilities - PA includes predictive intelligence that can project future trends based on past performance, helping managers make data-driven decisions.

Why Not Other Options?

A. Scheduled Reports, a custom snapshot table, and a Trend report - While reports and snapshots provide historical data, they do not offer forecasting capabilities.

B. Scheduled Reports and Excel - Excel is static and does not provide built-in forecasting or trend analysis.

C. Scheduled Reports, a custom snapshot table, and a Projection report - This approach is manual and lacks the dynamic analytics that PA provides.
