Cisco Certified Design Expert (CCDE v3.0) Written Exam Sample Questions (Q102-Q107):

NEW QUESTION # 102

It is often seen that companies pick a cloud vendor solely based on technical preferences without putting enough weight on the business strategies that are driving the cloud initiatives. Which strategic requirement may come into play where it is more likely that the decision makers will look to leverage IaaS over SaaS or PaaS?

- A. control over the underlying infrastructure
- B. integration with partner or vendor supply chains
- C. speed-to-market is more important for an initiative
- D. selling products and services globally 24/7

Answer: A

Explanation:
IaaS (Infrastructure as a Service) provides the most control over the underlying infrastructure, allowing organizations to manage and customize the environment according to their specific needs. This is a key strategic requirement when decision makers prioritize control over the infrastructure compared to using pre-built platforms (PaaS) or software solutions (SaaS).

NEW QUESTION # 103
A business wants to refresh its legacy Frame Relay WAN. It currently has product specialists in each of its 200 branches but plans to reduce and consolidate resources. The goal is to have product specialists available via video link when customers visit the nationwide branch offices.
Which technology should be used to meet this objective?

- A. DMVPN phase 1 network over the Internet
- B. Layer 2 VPLS
- C. Layer 3 MPLS VPN hub and spoke
- D. Layer 3 MPLS VPN full mesh

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 104
Company XYZ runs OSPF in their network. A design engineer decides to implement hot-potato routing architecture. How can this implementation be achieved?

- A. Enable OSPF load-balancing over unequal cost path.
- B. Redistribute the external prefixes onto OSPF and ensure the total metric calculation includes only the ext value and the value is the same in all ASBRs.
- C. Redistribute the external prefixes onto OSPF and ensure that the total metric calculation includes external internal values.
- D. Enable iBGP and apply prepend to ensure all prefixes will have the same length of the AS path attribute value.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 105
Company ABC uses IPv4-only. Recently they started deploying new endpoint devices. For operational reasons, IPv6 cannot be disabled on these new endpoint devices. Which security measure prevents the new endpoint from learning an IPv6 prefix from an attacker?

- A. Prefix Guard
- B. Secure Neighbor Discovery
- C. Source Guard and Prefix Guard
- D. Router Advertisement Guard

Answer: D

Explanation:
In IPv6, routers advertise prefixes via Router Advertisement (RA) messages. An attacker could inject rogue RAs to manipulate the IPv6 configuration of endpoints.
* Router Advertisement Guard (RA Guard) blocks unauthorized RA messages from being received on access ports, preventing endpoints from receiving incorrect IPv6 prefixes from malicious or misconfigured devices.

* This security feature is crucial when devices have IPv6 enabled but the network is IPv4-only.
Other options explained:
* A: Source Guard and Prefix Guard enforce valid address and prefix assignment but do not prevent RA spoofing directly.
* C: Prefix Guard focuses on controlling prefixes being assigned, not blocking RA messages.
* D: Secure Neighbor Discovery (SEND) provides cryptographic protection but is rarely deployed due to complexity.

NEW QUESTION # 106
Refer to the exhibit.
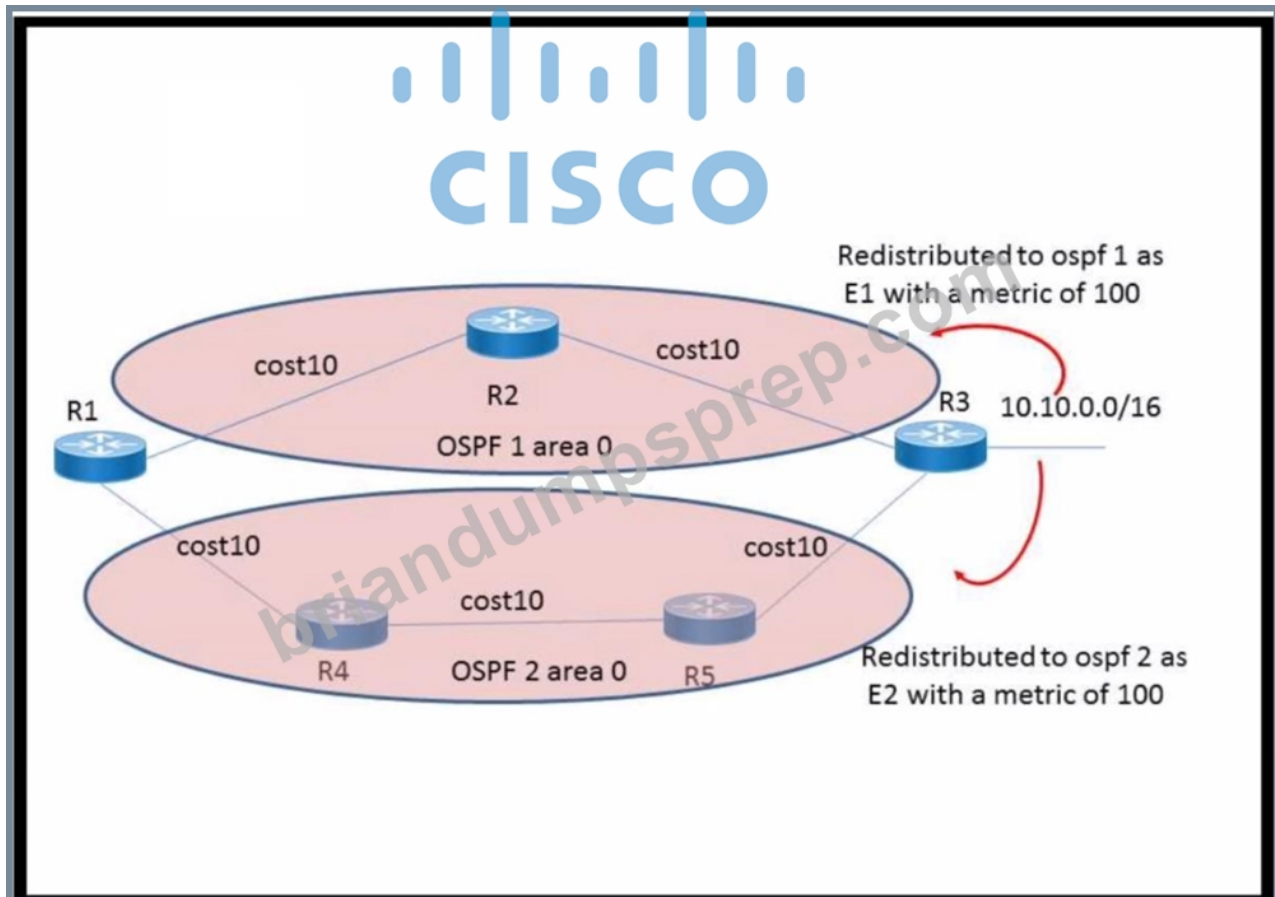

The network 10.10.0 .0/16 has been redistributed to OSPF processes and the best path to the destination from R1 has been chosen as R1-R2-R3 A failure occurred on the link between R2 and R3 and the path was changed to R1-R4-R5-R3 What happens when the link between R2 and R3 is restored'?

- A. The path reverts to R1-R2-R3 because this was the previous best path
- B. The path reverts back to R1-R2-R3 because the route type is E1
- C. The path R1-R4-R5-R3 continues to be the best path because OSPF does not compare the metrics between two domains
- D. The path R1-R4-R5-R3 continues to be the best path because the metric is better

Answer: A

Explanation:
When the link between R2 and R3 is restored, the path reverts back to R1-R2-R3 because this was the previous best path. This is because OSPF uses the Dijkstra algorithm to calculate the shortest path tree (SPT) and the path with the lowest cost is chosen as the best path. In this case, the cost of the path R1-R2-R3 is lower than the cost of the path R1-R4-R5-R3, so the path R1-R2-R3 is chosen as the best path. OSPF also has a preference order for different types of routes, such as intra-area, inter-area, external type 1, external type 2, NSSA type 1, and NSSA type 2. However, this preference order only applies when OSPF has to choose between routes of different types to the same destination. In this scenario, both paths are external type 2 routes, so the preference order does not affect the path selection
