Cluster One

- Six ESXi hosts
- vSphere HA with host failures cluster tolerates = 1
- Proactive HA is enabled and set to automated |

- Proactive HA is disabled
- Partially Automated vSphere DRS
- Transparent Page Sharing (TPS) is disabled

Cluster Three

- Three ESXi hosts
- vSphere HA with admission control is disabled
- Proactive HA is not supported
- Transparent Page Sharing (TPS) is disabled

Virtual Machine Resource Profile 1

- Memory sharing techniques should not be used
- Virtual machines should be automatically restarted in the event of host failure if resources are available Automated initial virtual machine placement Virtual Machine Resource Profile 2

- Memory sharing techniques should not be used
- Virtual machines should be automatically restarted in the event of host failure regardless of available resources
- Automated initial virtual machine placement.

NEW QUESTION # 35

A customer defines a requirement to minimize the vMotion migration time during a maintenance period. The servers being used are equipped with eight 1 GbE network adapters.

Per the defined logical network configuration, there are two network adapters each used for:

- Management traffic
- vMotion traffic
- iSCSI traffic
- Virtual machine traffic

Which design decision should the architect make to meet the customer requirement?

- A. Combine vMotion and Management traffic to make use of four adapters.
- B. Configure a dedicated TCP/IP stack for vMotion traffic.
- C. Implement Multi-NIC vMotion by adding additional vMotion VMkernels.
- D. Use Network I/O Control to define a reservation for vMotion traffic.

Answer: C

Explanation:

We maintain the 2 x 1 GbE network adapters for vMotion and then configure multiple VMkernel interfaces using the same NIC and network. Each time you add a VMkernel adapter and enable it for vMotion, you create a new stream. With more streams, there is greater bandwidth utilization.
