Pegasystems Certified Pega Lead System Architecture (LSA) Exam 23 Sample Questions (Q10-Q15):

NEW QUESTION # 10
XYZ is an Insurance application in which CSRs update thousands of claims daily. In the UI, claim cases are displayed to the CSRs in a grid, based on filter criteria. The source for the UI grid to retrieve the cases is a list data page that sources a report definition. The report definition is configured to use Elasticsearch to improve performance.
Though Elasticsearch is configured on the report definition, the report definition fires on the database SQL query.
Which two of the following reasons explain why the report definition falls back to database SQL query, instead of using Elasticsearch? (Choose two)

- A. The report definition is configured to retrieve duplicate values.
- B. The report definition is configured to retrieve distinct values.
- C. The Report definition does not perform a join.
- D. Properties that are configured on report definitions are not included in the search results of Elasticsearch.

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 11
Which two of the following statements are true about circumstanced case type rules? (Choose Two)

- A. Circumstanced case type rules are active only when a case instance is opened.
- B. The rule resolution algorithm does not apply to circumstanced case type rules.
- C. Case Designer supports side-by-side viewing of circumstanced case type rules, the base rule, and its circumstanced variations.
- D. Case workers can select which circumstanced variation of the case type rules to run.

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 12
In Pega applications, the Center-out business architecture is a fine-tuned software architecture that you use to deliver customer and business outcomes. The Center-out approach gives meaningful results quickly and sustains the architecture in the future by avoiding the mistakes of the top-down and bottom-up approaches.
Which two of the following statements are true about the Center-out business architecture? (Choose Two)

- A. The Pega Live Data visualization layer automatically extracts the data that you need to customer data schema.
- B. You can get every step in your Microjourney right by using the case management feature to manage, automate, and improve work.
- C. The Pega DX API keeps your front-end channels and back-end logic in sync, not in silos.
- D. The Pega DX API maintains the principle of separation of concern and keeps front-end channels and back-end logic out of sync.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:
Pega's Center-out business architecture, as detailed in Pega Academy'sApplication Design Missionand the Pega Certified Lead System Architect Study Guide, focuses on delivering business outcomes through Microjourneys, leveraging tools like the Pega DX API and case management to ensure modularity and synchronization. It avoids the rigidity of top-down and fragmentation of bottom-up approaches.
* Option A (Incorrect): The Pega DX API does not keep front-end channels and back-end logic out of sync. Instead, it ensures synchronization by providing a standardized interface for channel-agnostic communication, maintaining separation of concerns, as noted in thePega DX APImodule.

* Option B (Correct): The Pega DX API keeps front-end channels and back-end logic in sync, avoiding silos by enabling consistent data and process interactions across channels. This is a key feature of Center-out architecture, as documented in theCenter-out Architecturesection of Pega Community.
* Option C (Incorrect): The Pega Live Data visualization layer does not automatically extract data to a customer data schema. Live Data simplifies data access for specific use cases, but schema extraction requires explicit configuration, per theData Modelingmodule.
* Option D (Correct): Case management in Pega enables precise execution of Microjourneys by managing, automating, and optimizing work steps. This ensures that each Microjourney step delivers the intended outcome, aligning with Center-out principles, as outlined in theMicrojourney Design module.
Pega Academy:Application Design Mission(covers Center-out architecture and Pega DX API).
Pega Community:Center-out Business Architecture(details on DX API and case management).
Pega Certified Lead System Architect Study Guide (v23): Section onApplication Design(emphasizes synchronization and Microjourneys).

NEW QUESTION # 13
Which of the following best describes a "Zero-Day Vulnerability"?

- A. A vulnerability that affects zero-day old software only.
- B. A vulnerability that can be mitigated with zero-day patches.
- C. A vulnerability that has been present for zero days and cannot be exploited.
- D. A vulnerability that has not been discovered or publicly disclosed yet.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 14
MyCo.com has instances of SCM-F5, SmartDispute, and CPM-F5 in their Production Environment distributed across multiple Pega instances. A new business requirement states that users working in any one application cart create a case in any other application.
What is your recommendation to implement the new business requirement?

- A. Leverage database replication to communicate case creation.
- B. Implement a parent case across multiple products.
- C. Synchronize case creation with RFST services.
- D. Implement Federated Case Management.

Answer: D
