NEW QUESTION # 392

To appropriately monitor therapy and client progress, the nurse should be aware that increased myocardial work and O<sub>2</sub> demand will occur with which of the following?

- A. Positive inotropic therapy
- B. Negative chronotropic therapy
- C. Increase in balance of myocardial O<sub>2</sub> supply and demand
- D. Afterload reduction therapy

Answer: A

Explanation:

Section: Questions Set A

Explanation:

(A) Inotropic therapy will increase contractility, which will increase myocardial O<sub>2</sub> demand. (B) Decreased heart rate to the point of bradycardia will increase coronary artery filling time. This should be used cautiously because tachycardia may be a compensatory mechanism to increase cardiac output. (C) The goal in the care of the MI client with angina is to maintain a balance between myocardial O<sub>2</sub> supply and demand. (D) Decrease in systemic vascular resistance by drug therapy, such as IV nitroglycerin or nitroprusside, or intra-aortic balloon pump therapy, would decrease myocardial work and O<sub>2</sub> demand.

NEW QUESTION # 393

A 40-year-old client is admitted to the hospital for tests to diagnose cancer. Since his admission, he has become dependent and demanding to the nursing staff. The nurse identifies this behavior as which defense mechanism?

- A. Regression
- B. Displacement
- C. Projection
- D. Denial

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A) Denial is the disowning of consciously intolerable thoughts. (B) Displacement is the referring of a feeling or emotion from one person, object, or idea to another. (C) Regression is returning to an earlier stage of development. (D) Projection is attributing one's own thoughts, feelings, or impulses to another person.

NEW QUESTION # 394

- B. Delirium entails progressive intellectual and behavioral deterioration.
- C. The delirious client is capable of returning to his previous level of functioning.
- D. Delirium is an insidious process.

Answer: C

The demented client is incapable of returning to previous level of functioning. The delirious client is capable of returning to previous functioning. (C) This answer is incorrect. The demented client, not the delirious client, has progressive intellectual and behavioral deterioration. (D) This answer is incorrect. Delirium develops rapidly, whereas dementia is insidious.

NEW QUESTION # 395

A dose of theophylline may need to be altered if a client with COPD:

- A. Has a history of arthritis

- B. Operates machinery
- C. Is concurrently on cimetidine for ulcers
- D. Is allergic to morphine

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

(A) The effects of morphine or an allergic response to the drug will not affect theophylline clearance. (B) Xanthines are used cautiously in clients with severe cardiac disease, liver disease, cor pulmonale, hypertension, or hyperthyroidism. Arthritis does not influence the dosage of theophylline. (C) Theophylline does not cause sedation or drowsiness. Conversely, its side effects may be exhibited by central nervous system stimulation. (D) Cimetidine decreases theophylline clearance from the system and increases theophylline levels in the blood, thus increasing the risk of toxicity.

NEW QUESTION # 396

The nurse observes that a client has difficulty chewing and swallowing her food. A nursing response designed to reduce this problem would include:

- A. Ordering a mechanical soft diet for her
- B. Ordering five small meals for her
- C. Ordering a full liquid diet for her
- D. Ordering a pureed diet for her

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A) Full liquids would be difficult to swallow if the muscle control of the swallowing act is affected; this is a probable reason for her difficulties, given her medical diagnosis of multiple sclerosis. (B) Five small meals would do little if anything to decrease her swallowing difficulties, other than assure that she tires less easily. (C) A mechanical soft diet should be easier to chew and swallow, because foods would be more evenly consistent. (D) A pureed diet would cause her to regress more than might be needed; the mechanical soft diet should be tried first.
