CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q675-Q680):

NEW QUESTION # 675

Which of the following standards supports MIMO technology?

- A. 802.11a
- B. 802.11g
- C. 802.11n
- D. 802.11b

Answer: C

Explanation:

The 802.11n wireless networking standard supports Multiple Input Multiple Output (MIMO) technology. MIMO technology uses multiple antennas on both the transmitting and receiving devices to improve wireless performance by increasing the amount of data that can be transmitted simultaneously. 802.11a, 802.11b, and 802.11g do not support MIMO technology. ### NEW QUESTION # 676

Which of the following allows all VMs in a virtual environment to have RAM allocated for use?

- A. Synchronization
- B. Containerization
- C. Resource pooling
- D. Measured service

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 677

A technician has been called into a conference room to help with a video call setup. The user is unable to get the laptop screen to mirror to the in-room television. The technician confirms that the appropriate HDMI cable is plugged into the user's computer and the TV has a blinking logo on the screen. Which of the following is most likely causing the issue?

- A. The television does not support screen mirroring
- B. The television has a defective A/C adapter cable.
- C. The user's laptop does not support screen mirroring
- D. The user does not have Bluetooth enabled on the laptop.
- E. The wrong input is selected on the television.

Answer: E

Explanation:

When a laptop screen fails to mirror to a television despite being correctly connected via an HDMI cable, a common issue is that the television is set to the wrong input source. Modern televisions have multiple input options (e.g., HDMI 1, HDMI 2, AV, etc.), and selecting the correct input that corresponds to the port the HDMI cable is connected to is essential for displaying the laptop's screen. The blinking logo on the TV screen typically indicates that the TV is functioning but not receiving a signal from the selected input source. Changing the TV's input to the correct HDMI port should resolve the issue and allow the laptop screen to mirror onto the TV. Reference: Hardware 1101.docx, "Connecting External Displays" section.

NEW QUESTION # 678

A technical lead wants to migrate all common business applications, including email and fileshares, to the cloud. Which of the following cloud concepts should be used?

- B. MaaS
- C. IaaS

NEW QUESTION # 679

Isolating email attachments in a safe place until the attachments can be scanned for malware is defined as:

- A. a screened subnet.
- B. an approve listing.
- C. sandboxing.
- D. cross-platform virtualization.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The correct answer is D. Sandboxing.

Sandboxing is a security technique that isolates email attachments in a safe place until the attachments can be scanned for malware.

A sandbox is a virtual environment that mimics the operating system and applications of the user, but prevents any changes or damage to the actual system. A sandbox can also monitor the behavior and activity of the attachments and detect any malicious code or actions<sup>12</sup>.

An approve listing is a security technique that allows only trusted or authorized email senders or domains to be received by the user.

An approve listing can help reduce spam and phishing emails, but it does not scan or isolate email attachments for malware<sup>3</sup>.

A screened subnet is a security technique that creates a buffer zone between the internal network and the internet. A screened subnet uses firewalls and routers to filter and control the traffic that enters and exits the network. A screened subnet can help protect the network from external attacks, but it does not scan or isolate email attachments for malware.

Cross-platform virtualization is a technology that allows running multiple operating systems and applications on the same physical machine. Cross-platform virtualization can help improve efficiency, flexibility, and compatibility, but it does not scan or isolate email attachments for malware.
