Cisco Designing Cisco Security Infrastructure Sample Questions (Q51-Q56):

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which tool is used by SOC analyst to quarantine an endpoint?

- A. syslog
- B. flow collector
- C. Cisco XDR
- D. load balancer

Answer: C

Explanation:

Cisco XDR (Extended Detection and Response) gives SOC analysts the ability to detect, investigate, and quarantine compromised endpoints. It integrates telemetry across endpoints, network, and cloud, enabling coordinated response actions.

NEW QUESTION # 52

A pharmaceutical company needs hub-and-spoke VPN topology. The design must be capable of building either partial or full mesh overlay networks. Which VPN solution must be implemented in the environment?

- A. crypto maps
- B. DMVPN
- C. L2TP
- D. SSL VPN

Answer: B

Explanation:

Dynamic Multipoint VPN (DMVPN) supports hub-and-spoke topologies while allowing flexibility to build partial or full mesh overlays as needed. It provides scalable and dynamic VPN tunnels without requiring static configuration, making it the best fit for the requirement.

NEW QUESTION # 53

A manufacturing company recently experienced a network-down scenario due to malware spread on the management network. The company wants to implement a solution to detect and mitigate a similar threat in the future and protect the overall network. Which solution meets the requirements?

- A. encrypted threat analysis
- B. endpoint detection and response
- C. IPsec VPN
- D. RADIUS

Answer: B

Explanation:

Endpoint Detection and Response (EDR) provides continuous monitoring, detection, and automated mitigation of malware at the endpoint level. By stopping threats before they spread across the management network, EDR protects the overall infrastructure from similar network- down scenarios in the future.

NEW QUESTION # 54

Refer to the exhibit.

□ In addition to SSL decryption, which firewall feature allows malware to be blocked?

- A. SSL Offloading
- B. DLP
- C. URL Filtering
- D. File Inspection

Answer: D

Explanation:

Based on the provided exhibits, the correct firewall feature for blocking malware in this context is File Inspection.

In image_4c047c.png, we see a Cisco Secure Firewall Access Control Policy rule named "Default Inspect".

This rule is configured to allow traffic from the "inside" zone to the "outside" zone while applying deep packet inspection. Crucially, the configuration includes a File Policy field, which is the mechanism used to perform malware analysis and file disposition lookups. By associating a File Policy with an Access Control rule, the firewall can inspect files as they transit the network, calculate their SHA-256 hash, and query the Cisco Collective Security Intelligence cloud to determine if the file is malicious, clean, or unknown.

The evidence of this feature in action is found in image_4b1ebe.png, which shows the Cisco Secure Endpoint (formerly AMP for Endpoints) Device Trajectory. The "Activity Details" pane specifically identifies a malicious file (iodnxvg.exe) categorized as W32.DFC.MalParent. While the log notes the file was not quarantined because it was in "audit only mode," the underlying technology performing the detection is File Inspection. This feature provides the necessary visibility into the contents of encrypted or unencrypted data streams to identify and -when properly configured in a "Protect" or "Block" mode- stop the execution of malware. This aligns with the Cisco SDSI objective of building a layered defense that combines perimeter traffic control with granular file-level security.

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which function does a DLP system perform when protecting application data?

- A. Inspects routing tables
- B. Redirects packets to edge firewalls
- C. Provides segmentation using VLANs
- D. Enforces policy compliance by inspecting data in transit

Answer: D

Explanation:

A Data Loss Prevention (DLP) system inspects data in transit (and at rest or in use) to ensure sensitive information is handled according to security policies.
