Adobe Experience Manager DevOps Engineer Expert Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14

A website experiences slow page loads despite enabling caching in Dispatcher.
What is the best approach to troubleshoot the issue?

- A. Configure replication agents to force content updates
- B. Increase the AEM instance memory allocation
- C. Disable caching completely to check if performance improves
- D. Analyze the Dispatcher logs to check cache hit/miss rates

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 15

A Cloud Manager deployment pipeline fails with a security compliance error.
What is the first step to resolve this issue?

- A. Check the pipeline logs in Cloud Manager for security violations
- B. Modify replication agents to bypass the security check
- C. Disable all security checks in Cloud Manager
- D. Roll back to the previous deployment

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 16

A DevOps engineer performs a successful local deployment of the source code to the AEM SDK. Subsequently, a Cloud Manager deployment is initiated via Cloud Manager. The DevOps engineer encounters runtime errors in the pipeline logs.

The following information is discovered from an analysis of the pipeline logs:

- * An exception occurred in the Sling Repository Initializer
- * The SlingRepository service registration was aborted due to a RuntimeException
- * Failed to set ACL (UnsupportedOperationException): This builder is read only
- * AclLine ALLOW (paths=[/libs/dam/content], privileges=[jcr:read]) at org.apache.sling.jcr.repoint.impl.AclVisitor.setAcl

What is causing this issue?

- A. An OSGI configuration is missing to allow ACL changes during deployment.
- B. The system user lacks permissions in the local AEM SDK.
- C. The repoint script does not have a runtime exception handler and fails.
- D. The repoint script is trying to modify an immutable path.

Answer: D

Explanation:

AEM as a Cloud Service enforces a strict separation between mutable content (e.g., /content, /conf) and immutable content (e.g., /apps, /libs). Immutable areas are packaged into the read-only base image during the build process and cannot be modified at runtime. When a Repoint script (which executes when the repository initializes) attempts to create nodes or set ACLs on paths beneath /libs or /apps, the Jackrabbit Oak repository rejects the change with an UnsupportedOperationException: This builder is read only, subsequently crashing the Sling Repository service and failing the deployment.

NEW QUESTION # 17

Which roles can be assigned to users in Adobe Admin Console for AEM access management? (Choose three)

- A. Product Profile Administrator
- B. System Administrator
- C. Dispatcher Manager
- D. Content Author
- E. Cloud Manager Developer

Answer: A,B,E

NEW QUESTION # 18

A DevOps engineer integrates an on-premise repository with Cloud Manager using Jenkins and the Git plugin. After a few builds, the developers notice that code is not getting merged into the proper branch on Cloud Manager.

There are no build errors to report.

What should the DevOps engineer do?

- A. Confirm that the URLs for the local and Cloud Manager repositories are correct.
- B. Make sure to do a force push merge code with the Cloud Manager branch in the post build actions.
- C. Validate that the credentials for the local and Cloud Manager repositories are correct.
- D. Check that the name of the target remote in the post build action equals the Cloud Manager remote.

Answer: B

Explanation:

When integrating external CI/CD tools (like Jenkins) with Adobe Cloud Manager's Git repository, a common, silent failure occurs during the push phase. Because Cloud Manager occasionally modifies the Git history internally (e.g., during environment syncing or Adobe updates), the local Jenkins repository history and the Cloud Manager remote history can diverge. When this happens, a standard git push fails silently or is rejected by the remote without throwing a standard build compilation error. The recognized DevOps workaround for this specific Cloud Manager Git integration is to configure the Jenkins post-build Git publisher to perform a "force push" to overwrite the remote branch.
