- A. Build incrementally in Timeboxes
- B. Build incrementally from firm foundations
- C. Build incrementally from Feasibility onwards
- D. Build incrementally

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 120

If two separate development teams are required to work on the same project, how will this be managed?

- A. Each team will have a different Business Visionary

- B. Both teams can share the same Product Owner
- C. Each team will need a different Scrum Master
- D. There will be two projects with different project roles

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed 150-300 words Explanation (paraphrased from Scrum & AgilePM practice):

When multiple teams build a single product within one project, effective backlog ownership and value alignment are critical. Scrum practice-and AgilePM when combined with Scrum-supports one Product Owner for the product, even when several teams deliver increments in parallel. A single Product Owner preserves a single ordered Product Backlog, unified priorities, and consistent acceptance criteria, minimizing conflicts and dependency churn. Each team may have its own Scrum Master to optimize facilitation and impediment removal locally, but the essential management mechanism for cross-team coherence is shared product ownership (one Product Owner) paired with lightweight cross-team planning and frequent integration. Splitting into two separate projects (with separate roles) for one product typically fragments value flow and complicates governance. Likewise, mandating different Business Visionaries per team dilutes accountability for the product outcome. Hence, the preferred and most effective approach is that both teams share the same Product Owner to maintain a single value and prioritization voice.

NEW QUESTION # 121

Which purpose relates to the Consolidation in a structured Timebox?

- B. To address the requirements and test the structure Timebox product.
- C. To formality accept the structured Timebox deliverables.
- D. To tie up any loose ends related to Evolutionary Development

Answer: D

Explanation:

The purpose of the Consolidation phase in a structured Timebox is to tie up any loose ends related to Evolutionary Development. This phase involves finalizing all outstanding work, ensuring that the deliverables meet the required quality standards, and preparing the product for acceptance and deployment. It is a critical phase for addressing any minor issues that may have arisen during development and ensuring that the Timebox objectives have been fully achieved.
