- A. Ongoing filter tuning procedures
- B. Investigation procedures for reviewing alerts
- C. Compliance with sanctions laws and regulations

NEW QUESTION # 78

A financial institution requests documents from a client who is involved in a trading business. Upon receiving the documents, which might be a potential indicator of sanctions evasion? (Select Three.)

- A. Numerous amendments to a trade agreement that obscure the entities involved
- B. Conflicting documentation related to the final user of goods traded
- C. Shipping instructions that include docking at countries located far from sanctioned territories
- D. Payment instructions of the customer are made online
- E. Falsified documents related to shipping routes taken
- F. A customer's account statement from another bank shows several cash withdrawals

Answer: A,B,E

Explanation:

Sanctions evasion indicators in trade documentation include:

- * Multiple amendments designed to obscure the parties involved - a classic red flag indicating concealment of the real counterparty.
- * Falsified or tampered shipping documents - used to hide sanctioned routes, ports, or vessels.
- * Conflicting end-user documentation - a major warning sign of diversion or concealment of sanctioned recipients.

Cash withdrawals (E) and online payment instructions (F) are AML indicators, but not directly sanctions evasion indicators. Docking at non-sanctioned countries (D) is not suspicious unless used as part of concealment, which is not indicated here.

Reference:

Trade-based sanctions evasion red flags (altered documents, falsification, inconsistent end-user information).

Diversion and concealment indicators in trade compliance.
