NEW QUESTION # 290

Shingrix was inadvertently administered subcutaneously. Of the following, it would be most appropriate for pharmacy personnel to report the error to:

- A. ISMP VERP.
- B. OSHA.
- C. iPLEDGE.
- D. MedWatch.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Administration by the wrong route is a vaccine administration error. The appropriate program for reporting vaccine errors (e.g., storage, preparation, or administration mistakes) is the ISMP Vaccine Error Reporting Program (VERP). OSHA addresses workplace safety exposure issues, iPLEDGE is specific to isotretinoin risk management, and MedWatch is used to report adverse events and product problems (not primarily process errors) for most drugs and devices. For vaccine-related errors, ISMP VERP is the recommended venue.

References (Pharmacy Technician documents/Study Guides):

- * ISMP guidance: Vaccine Error Reporting Program (VERP) for vaccine-related errors (wrong route, wrong age, storage errors).
- * CDC/Immunization best practices: distinction between reporting errors (ISMP VERP) vs. adverse events (VAERS/MedWatch).
