GInI Certified Innovation Professional (CInP) Sample Questions (Q59-Q64):

NEW QUESTION # 59

Throughout Stage 5 of the GInI InMS, the organization will have many opportunities for feedback loops (just as in Stage 4), where their learnings help them to either reinforce, redirect, or kill each project.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Reinforce, redirect, or kill
- B. Remove, restore, or monitor
- C. Reimagine, renew, or accelerate
- D. Reinstate, refocus, or ignore

Answer: A

Explanation:

GInl's CInI Handbook mirrors Stage 4's feedback loops in Stage 5, where pilots and early launches provide data to "reinforce" (bolster strengths), "redirect" (adjust course), or "kill" (halt unviable efforts). This iterative refinement ensures the Back End delivers value, consistent with GInl's adaptive execution model.

"Reimagine, renew, accelerate" (B) is forward-looking, not evaluative. "Remove, restore, monitor" (C) is passive. "Reinstate, refocus, ignore" (D) lacks termination clarity. Option A aligns with GInl's terminology, matching the original answer, reflecting a disciplined, responsive approach to scaling innovation—a GInl strength in managing late-stage risks.

NEW QUESTION # 60

Technology Innovation is any new innovation that delivers greater value and/or a better customer experience as a direct consequence of using a new technology.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Initiating research and development into a new technology
- B. Hying a new technology
- C. Adding new features to the offering
- D. Using a new technology

Answer: D

Explanation:

GInl defines "Technology Innovation" in the CInP Handbook as an innovation driven by the application of a new technology to enhance value or customer experience. The key is the use of the technology, not just its features (A), promotion (B), or development (C). Option A, "adding new features," might result from technology but isn't the defining act. Option B, "hying," is marketing, not innovation. Option C, "initiating R&D," is a precursor, not the innovation itself. D, "using a new technology," matches GInl's focus on practical application as the source of value, confirming the original answer. The question's phrasing reinforces this by specifying "as a direct consequence."

NEW QUESTION # 61

Build to Empathize is one of the 12 Purposes of Prototyping in which we build prototypes to develop a deeper understanding of the customer and of their world / situation / problem.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Build to Empathize
- B. Build to Clarify
- C. Build to Think
- D. Build to Learn

Answer: A

Explanation:

GInl's CInP Handbook lists 12 Purposes of Prototyping, including "Build to Empathize," where prototypes are created not to test solutions but to deepen empathy—e.g., simulating a user's experience to understand their context, struggles, or needs. This aligns with the Empathize phase, using tangible models to bridge observation and insight. "Build to Learn" (A) tests functionality or feasibility, not empathy. "Build to Think" (B) aids ideation, not user understanding. "Build to Clarify" (C) refines concepts for communication, not customer insight. Option D matches GInl's definition, aligning with the original answer, showcasing GInl's nuanced prototyping philosophy—leveraging physicality to enhance human connection, a subtle yet powerful Front End tool.

NEW QUESTION # 62

A key use of research in Needfinding work is for market segmentation, where an overall population of prospective customers is segmented according to the particular outcome each segment seeks.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Various demographic factors
- B. Their tastes-what they like and dislike
- C. Their lifestyles
- D. The particular outcome each segment seeks

Answer: D

Explanation:

GInI's CInP Handbook highlights Needfinding as a Front End activity where research, including market segmentation, identifies customer needs. GInI advocates segmenting based on "the particular outcome each segment seeks" (e.g., convenience, performance)-a jobs-to-be-done approach-rather than traditional metrics. This focuses on why customers buy, revealing actionable innovation opportunities. Option B, "demographic factors" (age, income), is conventional but less need-centric. Option C, "lifestyles," and Option D, "tastes," are behavioral but miss the outcome focus GInI prioritizes. Option A aligns with GInI's methodology, matching the original answer, embodying a sophisticated, outcome-driven segmentation that drives targeted innovation-a nuanced evolution of market research.

NEW QUESTION # 63

A cardinal rule for Project Leaders leading their teams in needfinding is to never pursue a technology for the sake of technology. Why is this?" Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. They must first ensure it is as cost-effective as their competitors' technology.
- B. There may be an even better technology waiting just around the corner.
- C. There may not now or ever be a market need for that technology.
- D. The technology may not work.

Answer: C
