NEW QUESTION # 31

(Single choice) The following statement about SSH connection is incorrect:

- A. From a client perspective, SSH provides two levels of security authentication
- B. The SSH protocol works at the network layer
- C. The SSH protocol encrypts all transmitted data, effectively preventing information leakage during remote management

- D. SSH can be applied to secure remote login and encrypted file transfers over remote encrypted connections

Answer: B

Explanation:

SSH provides secure remote login and secure file transfer (SCP/SFTP) with encryption, integrity, and authentication. Clients validate the server/host and then perform user authentication (password, public key, etc.), often described as two layers of authentication. SSH runs over TCP (port 22) at the application layer, not at the network layer-therefore D is the incorrect statement.
