ServiceNow Certified Application Developer-ServiceNow Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14
What is the Endpoint when configuring a REST Message?

- A. The URI of the Webserver
- B. The command to the REST script to stop execution
- C. The URI of the data to be accessed, queried, or modified
- D. The provider response indicates there is no data to send back

Answer: C

Explanation:
In ServiceNow, when configuring a REST Message, the Endpoint specifies the URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) where the REST request is sent. This URI points to the resource on the external system that the REST message will interact with, whether it's to retrieve, update, create, or delete data.
Key Points:
* Endpoint Definition: The Endpoint is a complete URL that includes the protocol (e.g., HTTP or HTTPS), the domain or IP address of the external server, and the specific path to the resource. For example: https://api.example.com/v1/resources.
* Dynamic Endpoints: ServiceNow allows the use of variables within the Endpoint URL, enabling dynamic substitution at runtime. This is useful when the exact resource path or parameters need to be determined during execution.
* Configuration in ServiceNow:
* Navigate to "System Web Services" > "Outbound" > "REST Message."
* Create a new REST Message or select an existing one.
* In the REST Message record, define the Endpoint URL in the "Endpoint" field.
Example Scenario:
If you are integrating ServiceNow with an external ticketing system to retrieve incident data, the Endpoint might be something like https://api.ticketingsystem.com/incidents/{incident_id}, where {incident_id} is a placeholder that gets replaced with the actual incident ID at runtime.

NEW QUESTION # 15
Application developers can specify which ServiceNow page a user sees after submitting a new record using the Record Producer UI. How is the page specified?

- A. Configure the page in the Module that opens the Record Producer UI
- B. Create an application property to store the URL
- C. Write a script in the Record Producer's Script field: producer.redirect = "<URL>";
- D. Write an after Business Rule script for the Record Producer's table: window.redirect = "<URL>";

Answer: C

Explanation:
Application developers can specify which ServiceNow page a user sees after submitting a new record using the Record Producer UI by writing a script in the Record Producer's Script field: producer.redirect = "<URL>";. This script sets the redirect property of the producer object to the URL of the desired page. For example, producer.redirect = "home.do"; will redirect the user to the homepage after submitting the record.
The other options are not valid ways to specify the redirect page for a Record Producer. Reference: Populate record producer data and redirect users

NEW QUESTION # 16
When configuring an Access Control which has no condition or script, which one of the following statements is NOT true?

- A. table.field will grant access to a specific field in a record
- B. table.None will grant access to every record on the table
- C. table.*will grant access to every field in a record
- D. table.id will grant access to a specific record on the table

Answer: D

Explanation:
Access Controls are rules that define who can access what data and how they can access it. When configuring an Access Control, you can specify the table, operation, and role for the rule. You can also add a condition or a script to further refine the rule. If you do not add a condition or a script, the rule will apply to all records and fields on the table.

The statements A, B, and C are true for Access Controls that have no condition or script. For example:

table.* will grant access to every field in a record. This means that the user can view and edit all the fields on the record, regardless of their role or any other criteria.

table.None will grant access to every record on the table. This means that the user can view and edit all the records on the table, regardless of their role or any other criteria.

table.field will grant access to a specific field in a record. This means that the user can view and edit only that field on the record, regardless of their role or any other criteria.

The statement D is not true for Access Controls that have no condition or script. table.id will not grant access to a specific record on the table. This is because the id is not a field name, but a unique identifier for the record. To grant access to a specific record on the table, you need to add a condition or a script that matches the id of the record.
