VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Administrator Sample Questions (Q56-Q61):

NEW QUESTION # 56

Which Container Network Interface (CNI) is selected by default in a VMware Kubernetes Service (VKS) workload cluster?

- A. Flannel
- B. Antrea
- C. Calico
- D. Cilium

Answer: B

Explanation:

The VCF 9.0 Kubernetes Service documentation confirms that Antrea is the default CNI used for VMware Kubernetes Service (VKS) workload clusters.

"When deploying a new VKS workload cluster, the Antrea Container Networking Interface is automatically enabled by default to provide pod-to-pod and pod-to-service networking. Antrea is fully integrated with NSX-T for advanced policy control." Flannel, Calico, and Cilium are widely used CNIs in upstream Kubernetes but are not the default in VCF. Administrators can optionally integrate with third-party CNIs, but the supported default choice is Antrea.

NEW QUESTION # 57

An administrator must configure a new Project in the Development tenant of VCF Automation.

The requirement is to minimize ongoing management overhead as new developers onboard.

Which four steps should be taken? (Choose four.)

- A. Assign both Project Administrators and Project Members to the Project using Active Directory Groups.
- B. Log in to the Development tenant as an Organization Administrator.
- C. Log in to the Development tenant as a Project Administrator.
- D. Assign at least one Cloud Zone to the Project.
- E. Assign at least one Namespace to the Project.
- F. Assign both Project Administrators and Project Members to the Project using Active Directory Users.
- G. Create a new Project.

Answer: A,C,D,G

Explanation:

According to the VCF Automation 9.0 Guide, project creation requires administrative login at the tenant level: "To create a new project, log in as a Project Administrator of that tenant." After creation, projects must be mapped to Cloud Zones to determine compute placement. The document also emphasizes: "For scalable user management, assign groups from Active Directory to roles within projects rather than individual users." This reduces management overhead as new members join. Namespaces are not mandatory unless Kubernetes Supervisor is being integrated, which is not required in this scenario. Likewise, logging in as an Organization Administrator (F) is not needed for tenant-level project creation. Therefore, the correct steps are: Log in as Project Admin (A), Create a Project (D), Assign a Cloud Zone (B), and Use Active Directory Groups for membership (G). This ensures minimal ongoing administrative effort.

NEW QUESTION # 58

An administrator is tasked with deploying a new application that requires both virtual machines and containers.

Which two components of VMware Cloud Foundation would be utilized to provide a unified platform for managing these workloads? (Choose two.)

- A. Aria Operations
- B. NSX
- C. IaaS Control Plane
- D. HCX

- E. Aria Suite Lifecycle

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Aria Operations: Aria Operations (formerly vRealize Operations) provides a unified platform for managing both virtual machines (VMs) and containers, offering monitoring, analytics, and performance management for the entire environment.

NSX: NSX provides network virtualization and security, which can be used to manage network traffic for both VMs and containers, offering a consistent networking model for both workloads.

NEW QUESTION # 59

Which statement describes a Container Storage Interface (CSI) in vSphere Supervisor?

- A. It is a plug-in that allows providers to expose storage as persistent storage.
- B. It is a plug-in that is required for ephemeral storage.
- C. It is a plug-in that only works with vSphere object storage.
- D. It is a plug-in that is only used for clusters which require cloud native storage.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The vSphere CSI driver allows vSphere storage to be exposed as persistent storage to containerized applications running on Kubernetes clusters. The driver implements the Kubernetes CSI specification and enables dynamic provisioning, attach/detach, and snapshot operations for persistent volumes.

NEW QUESTION # 60

An organization wants to centralize its VM templates, ISO images, and scripts to streamline deployment processes across multiple sites using Content Libraries.

Which three steps are required to create a new Content Library? (Choose three.)

- A. Add the necessary permissions to allow users to upload content to the library.
- B. Configure the library to automatically sync with the vSphere Update Manager.
- C. Choose "Create a new library" and enter a name and description for the library.
- D. Select "Local content library" and choose the datastore to store the library contents.
- E. Navigate to the Content Libraries section in the vSphere Client.

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

When creating a new Content Library, you first need to specify a name and description to define the library's purpose.

For a Local Content Library, you need to choose the datastore where the library contents will be stored.

This is essential for proper organization and accessibility of content.

To create and manage content libraries, you must navigate to the Content Libraries section in the vSphere Client.
