Cyber AB Certified CMMC Professional (CCP) Exam Sample Questions (Q183-Q188):

NEW QUESTION # 183

A defense contractor needs to share FCI with a subcontractor and sends this data in an email. The email system involved in this process is being used to:

- A. transmit FCI.
- B. process FCI.
- C. manage FCI.
- D. generate FCI

Answer: A

Explanation:
Federal Contract Information (FCI) is defined in FAR 52.204-21 as information provided by or generated for the government under contract but not intended for public release. Under CMMC 2.0, organizations handling FCI must implement FAR 52.204-21 Basic Safeguarding Requirements, ensuring proper protection in processing, storing, and transmitting FCI.
Analyzing the Given Options The question involves an email system that is used to send FCI to a subcontractor.
Let's break down the possible answers:
A). Manage FCI# Incorrect
Managing FCI involves activities like organizing, storing, and maintaining access to FCI. Sending an email does not fall under management; it is an act of transmission.
B). Process FCI# Incorrect
Processing refers to actively using FCI for operational or analytical purposes, such as analyzing, modifying, or computing data. Simply sending an email does not constitute processing.
C). Transmit FCI# Correct
Transmission refers to the act of sending FCI from one entity to another. Since the contractor is sending FCI via email, this falls under transmitting the data.
Reference: NIST SP 800-171 Rev. 2, 3.1.3- "Control CUI (or FCI) by transmitting it using authorized mechanisms." D). Generate FCI# Incorrect Generating FCI means creating new contract-related information. The contractor is not creating FCI in this scenario but merely transmitting it.
Official References Supporting the Correct Answer CMMC 2.0 Level 1 Practices (FAR 52.204-21 Basic Safeguarding Controls) 3.1.3: "Control CUI (or FCI) by transmitting it using authorized mechanisms." This confirms that email transmission falls under "transmitting" FCI, not managing or processing.
NIST SP 800-171 Rev. 2 (Protecting CUI in Non-Federal Systems)
Requirement 3.13.8: "Implement cryptographic methods to protect CUI when transmitted." While this applies more to CUI, FCI should also be protected during transmission, confirming that email is a form of transmitting information.
Conclusion Since the contractor is sending FCI via email, the correct answer is C. Transmit FCI. This aligns with CMMC 2.0 Level 1 practices under FAR 52.204-21 and NIST SP 800-171, which emphasize securing transmitted data.

- A. Inform the OSC and the C3PAO of the possible conflict of interest, document the conflict and mitigation actions in the assessment plan, and if the mitigation actions are acceptable, continue with the assessment.
- B. Inform the OSC and the C3PAO of the possible conflict of interest, and start the entire process over without the conflicted team member.
- C. Do not inform the OSC and the C3PAO of the possible conflict of interest, and continue as planned.
- D. Inform the OSC and the C3PAO of the possible conflict of interest but since it has been an acceptable amount of time since college, no conflict of interest exists, and continue as planned.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 186

During a Level 2 Assessment, an OSC provides documentation that attests that they utilize multifactor authentication on nonlocal remote maintenance sessions. The OSC feels that they have met the controls for the Level 2 certification. What additional measures should the OSC perform to fully meet the maintenance requirement?

- A. The nonlocal maintenance personnel complain that restrictions slow down their response time and should be removed.
- B. Connections for nonlocal maintenance sessions should be unlimited to ensure maintenance is performed properly
- C. Connections for nonlocal maintenance sessions should be terminated when maintenance is complete.
- D. The maintenance policy states multifactor authentication must have at least two factors applied for nonlocal maintenance sessions.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 187

Two assessors cannot agree if a certain practice should be rated as MET or NOT MET. Who should they consult to determine the final interpretation?

- A. Lead Assessor
- B. Quality Assurance Assessor
- C. C3PAO
- D. CMMC-AB

Answer: A

Explanation:
The Lead Assessor has the authority to make the final determination in situations where assessors cannot agree on a rating. CAP specifies that the Lead Assessor ensures consistency, resolves disputes, and provides the authoritative interpretation during the assessment process. Escalation to the CMMC-AB or Quality Assurance would only occur in rare post-assessment review cases, not during an active assessment.
