NEW QUESTION # 1083
Which of the following statements pertaining to the Bell-LaPadula model is TRUE if you are NOT making use of the strong star property?

- A. It allows "read up."
- B. It addresses management of access controls.
- C. It addresses covert channels.
- D. It allows "write up."

Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
Three main rules are used and enforced in the Bell-LaPadula model:
The simple security rule, the *-property (star property) rule, and the strong star property rule. The simple security rule states that a subject at a given security level cannot read data that reside at a higher security level.
The *-property rule (star property rule) states that a subject in a given security level cannot write information to a lower security level. The simple security rule is referred to as the "no read up" rule, and the *-property rule is referred to as the "no write down" rule.
The third rule, the strong star property rule, states that a subject that has read and write capabilities can only perform those functions at the same security level; nothing higher and nothing lower. So, for a subject to be able to read and write to an object, the clearance and classification must be equal.
If you are NOT making use of the strong star property, then there is no rule preventing you from writing up.
Incorrect Answers:
A: The simple security rule, referred to as the "no read up" rule, will prevent you from reading up.
B: The Bell-LaPadula model does not address covert channels.
C: The Bell-LaPadula model does not address management of access controls.

NEW QUESTION # 1084

Which of the following is performed to determine a measure of success of a security awareness training program designed to prevent social engineering attacks?

- A. Internal assessment of the training program's effectiveness
- B. Employee evaluation of the training program
- C. Management control of reviews
- D. Multiple choice tests to participants

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 1085

The high availability of multiple all-inclusive, easy-to-use hacking tools that do NOT require much technical knowledge has brought a growth in the number of which type of attackers?

- A. Phreakers
- B. Script kiddies
- C. Black hats
- D. White hats

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
Explanation:
Script kiddies are hackers who do not necessarily have the skill to carry out specific attacks without the tools provided for them on the Internet and through friends. Since these people do not necessarily understand how the attacks are actually carried out, they most likely do not understand the extent of damage they can cause.
Incorrect Answers:
A: Black hats are malicious, skilled hackers. Easy-to-use hacking tools have not brought a growth in black hats.
B: White hats are security professionals; ethical hackers who hack systems to test their security. Easy-to- use hacking tools have not brought a growth in white hats.
D: Phreakers are telephone/PBX (private branch exchange) hackers. Easy-to-use hacking tools have not brought a growth in Phreakers.

NEW QUESTION # 1086

Which of the following can be used as a covert channel?

- A. Storage and classification.
- B. Storage and timing.
- C. Storage and low bits.
- D. Storage and permissions.

Answer: B

Explanation:
The Orange book requires protection against two types of covert channels, Timing and Storage.
The following answers are incorrect:
Storage and low bits. Is incorrect because, low bits would not be considered a covert channel.
Storage and permissions. Is incorrect because, permissions would not be considered a covert channel.
Storage and classification. Is incorrect because, classification would not be considered a covert channel.
