CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q289-Q294):

NEW QUESTION # 289

A desktop can connect to a file server but cannot access the internet. The ipconfig /all output shows a correct IP and DNS but no default gateway. What will most likely restore internet access?

- A. Choosing a different IPv6 address
- B. Flushing the DNS cache
- C. Setting the default gateway
- D. Disabling NetBIOS

Answer: C

Explanation:

The default gateway is the device (usually the router) that a computer uses to forward traffic to destinations outside its local network (such as the internet). The fact that the desktop can connect to a local file server means its basic network settings (IP address and subnet mask) are functioning correctly within the local network. Without a default gateway specified, the computer only knows how to communicate with devices on the same local subnet, which is why it cannot access the internet.

NEW QUESTION # 290

A technician wants to upgrade a computer to a new Windows version. The Windows Upgrade Advisor states that the computer is not compatible with the new Windows version due to a lack of TPM 2.0 support. Which of the following should the technician do next?

- A. Install an HSM in the computer.
- B. Perform a clean Install of the new Windows version.
- C. Enable the module in the UEFI BIOS.
- D. Implement BitLocker on the computer.

Answer: C

Explanation:

TPM 2.0 (Trusted Platform Module) is often disabled by default in the UEFI BIOS. Enabling it is necessary to meet the requirements for certain Windows installations, including Windows 11.

Why Not B (Install an HSM): A Hardware Security Module (HSM) is a separate device used for cryptographic functions and is not related to TPM on the motherboard.

Why Not C (Perform a clean install): A clean installation will not bypass the TPM 2.0 requirement.

Why Not D (Implement BitLocker): BitLocker requires TPM but does not resolve its absence or lack of activation.

CompTIA A+ Exam Reference: Core 1 (220-1201), Section 3.4, BIOS/UEFI configuration.

NEW QUESTION # 291

A user keeps getting an error message when trying to print a letter. The printer is normally used to print cards and invitations. The user tries printing from a different computer, but the issue persists. Which of the following should the user do to resolve the issue?

- A. Print fewer pages.
- B. Print on card stock
- C. Replace the rollers.
- D. Change the paper tray setting.

Answer: D

Explanation:

If a printer is set to use a special tray (for cards/invitations) but a different type of print job is attempted (like a letter), a paper tray setting mismatch can cause errors. Changing the tray setting to match the print media resolves the issue.
