IIBA Entry Certificate in Business Analysis (ECBA) Sample Questions (Q115-Q120):

NEW QUESTION # 115

When planning business analysis information management, what are the factors that influence storage and access decisions?

- A. Organizational values and procurement strategy
- B. Business policies and methodology adopted
- C. Business rules and change strategy
- D. Organizational standards and tool availability

Answer: D

Explanation:

Business analysis information can be stored in many ways. Storage decisions depend on many factors such as who must access the information, how often they need to access it, and what conditions must be present for access. Organizational standards and tool availability also influence storage and access decisions. The business analysis approach defines how various tools will be used on the initiative and how the information will be captured and stored within those tools. Tools may shape the selection of business analysis techniques, notations to be used, and the way that information is organized.

NEW QUESTION # 117

In addition to schedule, which other factor must be considered when evaluating changes to requirements?

- A. Capacity of the requirements management tool
- B. Amount of time needed to create new documents

- C. Agreement by executive board members
- D. Number of customers and end-users affected

Answer: D

Explanation:

When evaluating changes to requirements, in addition to the schedule, it is crucial to consider the number of customers and end-users affected by the change. This factor is important because it directly impacts the value delivery and satisfaction of the stakeholders. The changes must align with the needs and expectations of the customers and end-users to ensure that the solution remains relevant and beneficial. Reference: This consideration is supported by the Business Analysis Body of Knowledge (BABOK) guide, which emphasizes the importance of stakeholder engagement and value delivery in the requirements management and communication knowledge area1.

NEW QUESTION # 118

What is a definitional rule?

- A. A representation of the operational knowledge of the organization
- B. A representation of the behavior of people
- C. A rule that can be violated
- D. An obligation or prohibition of conduct, action, practice, or procedure

Answer: A

Explanation:

Definitional Rules represent operational knowledge of the organization.

NEW QUESTION # 119

Which of the following characteristics verifies that a requirement has been fulfilled?

- A. Feasible
- B. Concise
- C. Atomic
- D. Testable

Answer: D

Explanation:

A requirement is verified as fulfilled if it is 'testable.' This means that the requirement must be defined in such a way that it can be measured or tested to ensure it meets the criteria set forth. A testable requirement allows for the creation of test cases that can objectively determine whether the requirement has been met. Reference: The concept of a 'testable' requirement is a key quality characteristic in business analysis, as outlined in the Business Analysis Body of Knowledge (BABOK) guide1.
