Cisco Designing and Implementing Enterprise Network Assurance Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

When determining agent location for network assurance, what consideration is essential for minimizing latency?

- A. Security requirements
- B. Geographic distribution
- C. Network topology
- D. Regulatory compliance

Answer: B

Explanation:

Geographic distribution is essential for minimizing latency when determining agent location for network assurance, ensuring proximity to network endpoints for efficient data collection and monitoring.

NEW QUESTION # 43

What type of network issue can cause intermittent connectivity problems for end devices?

- A. Routing errors
- B. SSL certificate expirations
- C. DHCP lease expirations
- D. DNS cache poisoning

Answer: A

Explanation:

Routing errors can cause intermittent connectivity problems for end devices by disrupting the flow of network traffic between different network segments.

NEW QUESTION # 44

The network team has deployed Webex RoomOS Endpoint Agents and integrated Webex Control Hub with ThousandEyes. The VoIP team wants to know which metrics they can collect from the Webex Control Hub view. Where does the VoIP team find the network data?

- A. Network Path
- B. Users
- C. Settings
- D. Devices

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the Designing and Implementing Enterprise Network Assurance (300-445 ENNA) curriculum, the integration between ThousandEyes and Webex Control Hub provides a streamlined troubleshooting experience for collaboration services. For the VoIP team to access the specific ThousandEyes network telemetry—such as latency, loss, and jitter—they must navigate to the Network Path (Option B) section within the Troubleshooting tab of the Control Hub.¹⁵ The Network Path visualization is a direct result of the ThousandEyes Endpoint Agent data being pulled into the Webex interface.¹⁶ When a user or RoomOS device experiences poor audio or video quality during a meeting, the Control Hub's troubleshooting view displays a "Network Path" line under the participant's details.

¹⁷By clicking on this line, the VoIP team can see a hop-by-hop breakdown of the entire route from the collaboration device to the Webex media node. This view highlights specific hops where performance is

"Poor" (red), "Fair" (yellow), or "Good" (green) based on predefined thresholds for latency (>400ms) or loss (>5%).

While "Devices" (Option A) is where the agents are activated, and "Users" (Option C) allows for selecting a specific participant, the actual telemetry metrics and the visualization of the network route are strictly located in the Network Path view. This integration eliminates the need for the VoIP team to leave the Webex environment for initial triage, as they can identify if a problem is local to the branch office or deep within a service provider's network directly from the "Network Path" dashboard.

NEW QUESTION # 45

When selecting a Cisco network assurance platform, what factor should be prioritized for efficient network troubleshooting?

- A. Historical data storage
- B. Alerting mechanisms

- C. Network aesthetics
- D. Customer testimonials

Answer: B

Explanation:

Prioritizing alerting mechanisms is crucial when selecting a Cisco network assurance platform for efficient network troubleshooting and issue resolution.

NEW QUESTION # 46

What type of alert rule is configured based on network conditions such as TCP protocol behavior and congestion?

- A. Threshold alert
- B. Protocol alert
- C. Security alert
- D. Performance alert

Answer: A
